HITLER TELLS CZECHS: NO WAR

SHOWDOWN DUE ON ROOSEVELT'S UTILITIES POLICY

Spending, Pay Rule Decisions Near.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 22.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt returned from a week-end yachting cruise tonight prepared to face in congress beginning tomorrow a showdown of Democratic support of three of the outstanding features of his New Deal program.

In a White House conference with Democratic leaders in congress tomorrow morning he will map the strategy of his campaign for party vindication on these innovations before going to the people in the November elections for a vote of confidence.

Fight Over Three Items.

The three items of the Roosevelt program on which the showdown impends are the following:

1. Government subsidizing of publicly owned and operated power plants to compete with privately owned utilities.
2. Pump priming expenditure of several billion dollars designed to revive business activity and increase purchasing power of consumers.
3. Fixing by federal law of minimum wages and maximum hours of labor in business enterprises engaged in interstate commerce.

Squarely Up to Senate.

As the result of Democratic backsliding from the New Deal the senate appropriations committee voted an amendment to the five billion dollar relief and pump priming bill forbidding expenditure of PWA funds to finance public power plants. Thus the overwhelmingly Democratic appropriations committee has put up to the overwhelmingly Democratic senate decision of a question involving the whole dispute between the President and business.

For five years Mr. Roosevelt has been employing federal funds to promote public ownership in the course of his warfare on the privately owned utilities. The utilities contend that this competition subsidized by the taxpayers' money is threatening extinction of the private industry wherefore investors have taken to cover and funds cannot be obtained to finance 3 billion dollars' worth of extensions and improvements.

What Holds Back Recovery.

This is an example, say business leaders, of what is holding back recovery, and now the Democratic members of the senate appropriations committee have indorsed that view. Expenditure of 3 billion dollars by the utilities and of several times that amount by other industries, if confidence in the administration were restored, would obviate any necessity of pump priming expenditure of public funds, according to the critics of Mr. Roosevelt's attitude toward business.

That the President's pump priming scheme might impair confidence in the credit of the government and thereby retard recovery still further is the contention of fifty-six leading economists of the country comprising the Economists' National committee on monetary policy.

The minimum wage and maximum hour bill will come before the house tomorrow on a motion to discharge the rules committee from control of the measure. To discharge the committee the required 218 members signed a petition. The senate passed a bill last summer committing to a federal board the regulation of wages up to 40 cents an hour and of hours down to 40 a week. The board would be endowed with discretion to vary rates of wages and hours of labor geographically and by industries.

South Wants Differential.

To this arrangement the southern Democrats consented, confident that the differential allowed would enable the south to maintain its industrial advantage accruing from its lower cost of living and lower wage rates which accounted for the vast migration of the textile and other industries to the south in the last two decades.

When the bill reached the house, however, it encountered the opposition of the American Federation of Labor. William Green, president of the federation, would have nothing to do with any bill administered by any board. He had had his fill of

Tragedy Stalks Minors' Tavern Party

Officials Aroused; Inn Owner Seized.

Intoxicants sold to a party of high school youths in a south side tavern resulted early yesterday in an attempted suicide, an accidental death, and injuries to five other young persons which sent them to a hospital.

Louis Uecker.

The tragedies had immediate repercussions Police yesterday closed the tavern and arrested the owner, Louis J. Uecker, 8956 Parnell avenue, who has a previous record of having sold liquor to minors. Mayor Kelly, school officials, and parent-teacher association leaders announced plans last night for a complete investigation of the affair, and a cleanup of similar conditions wherever they exist in the city. The mayor said he would revoke Uecker's license today if the facts in the case are as reported to the mayor by the police last night.

Crash Kills Youth.

"It is terrible," he said when informed of the tragedy. "Our only immediate course of action is the revocation of the license. I will revoke the license tomorrow if the informal reports I have received are confirmed. I am confident that Commissioner Allman will take care of this matter promptly and competently."

The victim of the drinking party tragedy was Stephen Funsten Jr., 19 years old, 8540 Bennett avenue, son of a well-to-do contractor and a former pupil of Hirsch High school. He was killed in a motor crash at 83d street and Rhodes avenue while speeding a girl who had attempted suicide to the Jackson Park hospital. She and four others in his car were hurt.

Most in Party Under Age.

They were members of a group of twenty young men and women, most of them high school pupils attending Hirsch High school, who had gathered late Saturday night in Uecker's tavern, which is a drink and dance place known as the 84 club at 8428 Vincennes avenue. With a few exceptions all the revelers were minors as described by state laws—males under 21 and females under 18; there was one juvenile, that is, under 17. State laws prohibit the sale of intoxicants to minors.

Several rounds of beers had been consumed up to midnight, and everybody was gay. Shortly before Policemen Peter Lowery and James Hynes of the Gresham station had visited the saloon and sent home three boys on learning they were under age.

Girl Asks for Iodine.

More beer was consumed. About 1 a. m. yesterday Miss Jane Tinling, 16 years old, 2805 East 76th street, a junior at Hirsch school, angrily left her table in the back room, went forward and asked a bartender for some iodine. "I've scratched my hand," she explained. He allegedly handed her a shot of whisky, remarking, "Take this; it'll do as much good."

Whether Miss Tinling took the liquor could not be learned, but she sent a friend to a drug store for the antiseptic. Her purpose then was not known, but later it was explained to police by her companions that she had become piqued at Frank Ballard, 20, of 8005 Merrill avenue, a friend, who was sitting at another table. Her pique rose because of his attention to another girl.

Takes Poison on Dance Floor.

In time the iodine sent for was handed to her. She left her table dramatically and walked to the center of the dance floor. She tilted the iodine to her lips, cried out, "Here's how!" and drank. Some one knocked the bottle from her hand, but not before she had drunk half its contents. The party broke up in dis-

VEERING OVER AGAIN

Assails High Collars on Beer as a Low Trick

Is there too much foam on Chicago's beer? Ald. William A. Rowan [10th], chairman of the tavern licensing subcommittee of the city council, seeks the answer to the question. Last night he announced plans to initiate a council investigation of beer foam. Object: An ordinance regulating the size of the collar to be worn by the city's steins and beer glasses.

"A nice, foamy collar on a glass of beer is proper and necessary," said the alderman, "but too big a collar of foam means too little beer in the glass. In some taverns the beer drinkers are being cheated."

Prompted by Complaints.

Ald. Rowan didn't think the investigation up by himself. He was prompted by complaints from guzzlers who claim to have bought 16 ounce schooners and found only six or seven ounces of drinkable beer under a deep cap of foam. Righteous tavern owners do not permit their bartenders to practice that sort of trickery, declared Ald. Rowan, but for the less scrupulous, he thinks there ought to be an ordinance.

"Bartenders and customers at the rail agree that a wee collar of foam does add to the bouquet and enjoyment of the beer, but a fifty-fifty division of foam and beer, as is sometimes seen, is petty larceny which runs into grand larceny in a hurry. In our investigation we are going to see what other cities have done in this matter of regulating."

Something for a Starter.

Here are some of the beer facts which the alderman has gathered and which he will lay before his committee as a starter:

A barrel of beer contains 31 gallons, or 3,968 ounces, and has no foam when it is filled at the brewery and sold to the tavern keeper at an average wholesale cost of $16. Most tavern owners sell 350 10 ounce glasses of beer from a barrel, and retailing a glass for 10 cents, their gross return is $35, more than double the wholesale cost.

The remainder of the beer in the barrel goes mostly for chasers after hard liquor drinks and for the free beer the bartender occasionally sets up for a friend.

The amount of foam in each glass can be regulated by the temperature at which the cooling coils are kept and by the pressure at which the beer travels from the barrel, through the coils and to the tap.

According to one busy north side bartender, beer should be kept at a temperature of 35 to 40 degrees, which will result in 10 to 15 per cent foam in each glass drawn.

The distance between the barrel and the tap determines the pressure at which the beer is pumped. The pressure usually is applied by a gas tank or an electric pump. Too great pressure will result in too much foam. Much also depends on the bartender's technique.

BURIAL OF PET DOG IN CEMETERY CAUSES AN UPROAR IN PANA

Pana, Ill., May 22.—(AP)—Harry Stanton, president of the Mound cemetery board, tonight asserted that dozens of persons had threatened to remove bodies of relatives from the cemetery because Mrs. Amy Adams of Moweaqua buried her pet dog in the family plot there. Stanton said Mrs. Adams gave the dog, Rowdy, 15 years old, a $400 funeral a month ago and erected a monument over its grave. Recently Mrs. Adams returned and put flowers on the grave. "The community is upset," Stanton declared. "Something has to be done."

U. S. WOMAN VANISHES ON TRIP TO BERLIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 22.—An international mystery today shrouded the whereabouts of Mrs. Eve Beresford Clayton Bickford, young wife of a Buffalo, N. Y., real estate millionaire, who vanished suddenly after the British immigration authorities refused to readmit her to England following an airplane jaunt to Berlin.

Fear for the safety of the 25 year old wife of Gen. H. C. Bickford was heightened when a friend in West End here received a telephone call from her from Berlin urgently requesting money. Later this friend received a cryptic letter stating:

"If anything happens to me please communicate with my husband and father."

Divorce Trial Tears Lid Off Atlanta Graft

Atlanta, Ga., May 22.—[Special.]—How evidence in the divorce hearing of a convicted bootlegger led to graft indictments against eleven Atlanta policemen, six former Fulton county [Atlanta] deputy sheriffs, a convict camp clerk, and his helper was disclosed today by Prosecutor E. E. Andrews.

E. E. Andrews.
[A. P. Wirephoto.]

"Rumors of protection to bootleg liquor joints and of various other grafting had been circulating here for months," Andrews explained, "but witnesses were reluctant and our inquiry got nowhere until 'Pee Wee' Burns, convicted bootlegger, began quarreling with his wife.

"See" Expenditures Give Tip-off.

"Finally she sued for divorce and asked a property settlement. She brought some papers into court showing he had bought property under other names. There also were some slips showing regular payments of $25 and upward for 'ice' to individuals represented by initials.

"That set us figuring. "'Ice' is the last three letters of 'police.' Some of the 'ice' payments were to 'bicycle boys" and we got to thinking that might mean motorcycle policemen."

Andrews said that certain of the suspected officers were called in. They talked.

Witnesses Change Attitude.

"Then our case began to break wide open," he continued. "Reluctant witnesses began to change their minds and decided to talk, not knowing what we knew and afraid of perjury indictments."

The investigation finally revealed, the prosecutor said, that certain officers had been taking regular payments to protect bootleg liquor joints and that the convict camp clerk and his helper had accepted money to parole prisoners who had not been paroled.

The first of the indicted officials, Andrews said, will be called for trial June 1.

BY ELMER PETERSON.

WITH THE JAPANESE ARMIES ON THE CENTRAL CHINA WAR FRONT, May 22.—(AP)—I witnessed the Chinese-Japanese war from the air today.

It was an unprecedented inspection, made from a Japanese war plane, which unfolded a ghastly picture of men fighting, dying, and swarming like ants along dusty roads below.

Flying over an area twenty-five miles long and fifteen miles wide I saw evidence that the Chinese were broken, desperate, and bewildered in the face of onrushing Japanese legions.

At a height of 500 feet over Suchow I saw Japanese troops in full possession of that important junction of the Tientsin-Pukow and Lunghai railroads. The Rising Sun flag was floating over the city and Japanese soldiers, tanks, and trucks were everywhere.

American Mission Intact.

Sections of the city were blasted into ruins by artillery and air bombardment, but the damage did not appear as great as had been expected. I saw the Southern Presbyterian mission intact. The Stars and Stripes painted on the roof of the slate gray building were clearly visible.

From here we flew for two hours through the very center of the battle zone where the Japanese estimated that 250,000 Chinese are hopelessly trapped. I saw Japanese tanks pursuing fleeing Chinese soldiers. There were puffs of white smoke as machine guns mounted on the tanks poured bullets at the Chinese.

Here and there were other white puffs that rolled upward as Chinese soldiers spotted our plane and took pot shots at us. The trip over the battle zone was made in an unarmed transport plane without an escort of fighting ships. We were confident no Chinese planes would appear. None did.

Ruined and Burned Villages.

Following the east-west Lunghai railroad and the north-south Tientsin-Pukow railroad we saw signs of war on all sides. The scene below was an incredible panorama of ruined or burned villages, smashed bridges, shell marked farm houses, and endless zigzag lines of trenches.

Through field glasses I saw a group of Chinese run for cover at the sight of our plane, throwing themselves headlong behind trees and into ditches.

We found the first widespread fighting fifteen miles north of Suhsien, recently captured by the Japanese. I saw Japanese soldiers leap from trucks in pursuit of Chinese vanishing and reappearing as they darted through clouds of yellow dust. This was no longer trench warfare. It was open highway and field fighting, terrifying in its scope.

A straggling Chinese column moving west came into view, traveling partly afoot and partly in trucks. In close pursuit was a Japanese motorized unit, led by lumbering tanks. As we flashed past the Chinese dashed from the road and deployed in fields, their last refuge against the oncoming enemy. It was a picture of death in the making, grim

GERMANS YIELD TO PRESSURE OF BRITISH, FRENCH

BULLETIN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 22.—German authorities tonight solemnly assured Dr. Vojtech Mastny, Czech minister to Berlin, as well as the Czech military attache, that Germany plans no military expedition against Czechoslovakia.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
(Picture on Back Page.)

LONDON, May 22.—British statesmen tonight still regarded the situation in Europe as critical. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and the entire cabinet met at his official residence to decide on what to do in case the mobilization of troops by Germany and Czechoslovakia should lead to war.

Tension in other European capitals, however, was reported to be much relieved. German outbursts against Czechoslovakia have been greatly tempered by general unfavorable foreign reaction toward Adolf Hitler's designs on his small neighbor, coupled with evidence that Britain and France are working in close agreement.

See War Staved Off.

Nevertheless, the critical moment has not yet been passed. The next twenty-four hours will tell whether some untoward incident sets off the spark. But reports that municipal elections in Czechoslovakia were fairly peaceable and assurances by Nazi diplomats indicating a German "climbing down" show that war probably has been staved off for a while longer.

It appears as if the British and the French gave Germany "the works" this time—diplomatically at least. Both Paris and London seem to be mutually pleased with each other's conduct. It may be that the British cabinet meeting, which lasted 65 minutes, was intended for German consumption rather than being required by any immediate danger of war.

French Envoy Calls.

However, this is speculative. While the cabinet was in session Charles Corbin, French ambassador to London, was at the foreign office and remained there until 7 o'clock. He saw Viscount Halifax, foreign minister, and Sir Robert Vansittart, chief diplomatic adviser.

Herbert von Dirksen, German ambassador, was also at the foreign office giving reassurances that no rash steps were contemplated. Halifax remained at his office all day and was in continuous communication with Paris.

The British also instructed Sir Nevile Henderson, ambassador to Berlin, to inquire in a third interview with Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop of Germany into the scope of military mobilization.

Events in Europe Listed.

Outstanding moves in Europe over the week-end were:

GERMANY—British and French ambassadors received assurances from Von Ribbentrop that no abnormal troop movements were taking place and that Germany's attitude toward Czechoslovakia would depend on the minority statute now being worked out in Prague. Reichsfuehrer Hitler conferred with Von Ribbentrop and his military chiefs in Munich before leaving for his Alpine retreat at Berchtesgaden, Bavaria.

FRANCE—Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet told Sir Eric Phipps, British ambassador, that France would go to Czechoslovakia's aid "should circumstances warant it."

CZECHOSLOVAKIA—Following the calling up of 60,000 reserves, troops carried out "special exercises" on all frontiers. Municipal elections in the Sudeten German area passed without serious incident.

ITALY—It was announced in Rome that Italy would "remain outside the quarrel" should there be a conflict.

SOVIET RUSSIA—A powerful soviet air fleet has been concentrated at Kiev, where 1,000 planes are reported being held in readiness to assist the Czechs in case of German attack.

Plays Rôle of Peacemaker.

The British government is trying to act as peacemaker in a desperate effort to prevent a German invasion of Czechoslovakia. The British are using every ounce of influence they possess. In Prague they are emphasizing the importance of avoiding incidents and the need to make plain the Czech government's determination to proceed with the business of a real settlement with the German minority, whose chief demand is self-rule. In Berlin the British are stressing the importance of patience and moderation.

The tone of the inspired German press was quieter today than on Saturday, which is regarded in London as a good sign.

Chamberlain, British newspapers said, is working out a scheme, under which his government would play the part of mediator. The scheme is said to be based on autonomy for the 3,250,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia and would give them complete freedom in educational and municipal affairs.

Review Mass of Messages.

The prime minister hurried to London from Chequers, his country estate, to preside over the cabinet meeting. The ministers reviewed a mass of telegrams, reporting the course of events and the action being taken by British diplomatic representatives in various capitals on instructions from the London government. Halifax explained the reasons which led him to send last minute instructions to the various diplomats. When the meeting broke up the cabinet members said the situation, though still causing acute anxiety, was slightly relieved, at least temporarily. It was announced that Chamberlain and Halifax will report to the house of commons and the house of lords tomorrow.

The British and French governments aim to continue their endeavors to procure a calmer atmosphere so that it will be possible for Premier Milan Hodza of Czechoslovakia and Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten German party, to open negotiations.

At the moment it is understood the temperature in the Sudeten territory is too warm for a calm discussion of constructive reforms, but not so hot that it should be impossible to avoid further "incidents"—unless deliberately caused by renewed propaganda activity from Germany.

ITALY SHOWS ITS WAR POWER NEAR FRENCH COLONY

TRIPOLI, Libya, May 22.—(AP)—Italy's highly mobile Libyan troops launched a make believe attack today towards the frontier of French Tunisia on the northwest in maneuvers to test their war power.

Marshal Italo Balbo, governor of this Italian colony in North Africa, was in command of the maneuvers, which were witnessed by King Victor Emmanuel. Off shore Italian war vessels in the Mediterranean billowed huge puffs of yellow smoke from their guns in simulated support of the land forces.

The engagement opened with Italian warplanes roaring across the desert to attack enemy "red" concentrations. Soon battalions of Libyan Spahis—native cavalry—galloped across the plain, with their blue and scarlet burnooses streaming behind their Arabian steeds. They clashed with "enemy" scouting forces made up of their dusky kinsmen. On the heels of the cavalry came motorized units, with tanks and trucks churning up sand clouds, which obscured the action of other units.

CZECHS CONTINUE MASSING TROOPS AS NATION VOTES

Germans Test Strength in Town Elections.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, May 22.—Czechoslovakia today continued its preparations for all eventualities, the chief of which is war.

The sudden and extensive military action, including the calling out of at least 60,000 reserves, which stirred the world yesterday, may have been only a carefully laid plan of the government to curb any Nazi terrorism during today's municipal elections. Nevertheless, all eyes were focused on Germany, whose army was undergoing "training maneuvers" just across the frontier.

Garrisons continued to be strengthened. Government spokesmen again declared the boundaries of Czechoslovakia would be defended to the last man. Foreign Minister Kamil Krofta explained troops were being called out to preserve order.

From across the German borders came word of bitter tirades in the Nazi press against Czechoslovakia and demands for revenge for the death of two Sudeten Germans, killed by border guards near Eger. But there was no hint of the plans of Adolf Hitler, self-proclaimed protector of Germans outside as well as inside Germany.

Prague Officials Silent.

Prague officials were silent. Among themselves, foreigners here repeatedly asked one another: "Will Hitler strike?"

The population of the capital of this post-war republic recovered its calm. Many believed that the worst of the crisis had passed and that the country will enjoy another few days or even weeks of tranquility.

Only around the enormous barracks which Czechoslovakia inherited from the old Austro-Hungarian empire were signs of feverish activity evident. At the barracks, THE TRIBUNE correspondent found locked iron grilles, but peering through the bars one could see the courtyards filled with men, many of them still in civilian clothes waiting patiently for uniforms and other military equipment to be issued to them.

Mothers Kneel on Curbings.

From time to time the iron gates swung open and admitted new groups—one man at a time. They were reporting for duty. Outside there were cheerful partings from wives and sweethearts. Mothers and grandmothers kneeled on the curbing of the streets crossing themselves, reciting prayers and fingering their rosaries.

In streets near the barracks were long lines of trucks and buses which had been requisitioned for this emergency. The buses, which were ready to transport troops, were taken off the streets of Prague. The trucks for the transportation of supplies had been taken from various business enterprises—a large number of them from a brewery called Smichov.

The first number of one long line was 32, meaning that the first 31 vehicles had departed. The numbers followed thereafter in regular order up to 96.

A "Military Secret."

There was no authoritative answer as to the identity of these men entering the barracks today. Some wondered if they were leftovers from the class summoned late Friday night and were tardily answering the call. Others suspected they were men from a new class which had been called to the colors.

Official spokesmen refused to answer specific questions. "All that is a military secret and we are not going to divulge any information even if we knew the plans of the war ministry," they said.

From various sources it is understood that the concentration of troops is less along the north German border than in the region of Bratislava. It is no secret that the heaviest initial attack is expected along this border of Austria with the object of cutting Czechoslovakia in two.

The Czechoslovak general staf is known to fear such a rear attack, which would leave the army bottled up in Bohemia and Moravia.

Prague tonight recovered some of its usual animation after the depressing effects of the departure of men for the army, a day of drizzling rain and, perhaps most important of all, no beer. Citizens heard the results of the first of a series of municipal elections.

Germans Increase Strength.

The Sudeten Germans tested their strength in the elections, which were the first of three in which about 7,000,000 citizens will vote for new communal representatives. Only forty-eight towns with large German populations voted today out of the total of 1,500 communities. Four of these were classed as cities.

The Sudeten Germans increased their municipal council seats from 69 to 105 in the four cities, while the communists dropped from 14 to 5 and the German Socialist Democratic party—non-Nazi—dropped from 28 to 18.

In cities predominantly Czech—notably Prague—gains of from 15 to 20 per cent were registered by the Czech National Socialist party, the group slightly left of center to which President Eduard Benes belonged before becoming chief executive.

It polled 142,000 votes as compared with 107,000 in 1931, and emerged the strongest party. Communists were next with 80,000 votes. Extreme rightist parties lost heavily.

The voting will continue next Sunday and wind up on June 12 when 3,500 additional communities will have voted.

After the election results were announced Sudeten German party leaders under Konrad Henlein, the Sudeten fuehrer, said they would not negotiate "under the existing unconstitutional situation" in which Czech troops were stationed in Sudeten regions.

Explains Mobilization

(Story in adjoining column.)

Foreign Minister Kamil Krofta of Czechoslovakia yesterday explained that his nation is calling out new troops to preserve internal order. In high quarters it was conceded that mobilization is taking place especially on the German border.

U. S. TOURISTS SEE CZECH GUNS IN WINE CELLARS

VIENNA, May 22.—(AP)—Reports of a concentration of Czech machine gun units, army radio stations, and field kitchens two miles behind the border opposite Znaim, Austrian Germany, were brought to Vienna today by American motorists.

The Americans said they also saw small, camouflaged field pieces pointed toward the border from wine cellars in hillside vineyards.

MEDIATION HINT ENDS TENSE DAY FOR NAZI CHIEFS

Britain Expected to Act as Umpire in Crisis.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 22.—The war office, headquarters of all branches of military service, the chancellery, the foreign office, and the propaganda ministry were on emergency duty in Berlin today. They feared possible incidents which might aggravate the row between Germany and Czechoslovakia.

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler summoned his chief advisers to an extraordinary conference at Munich. The outcome of the conference is not known. Consequently foreign diplomats remained alarmed. They maintained that the warnings of Ambassador Sir Nevile Henderson of Great Britain forced the Germans to realize that France and Britain stand behind Czechoslovakia.

It was rumored that Hitler met Konrad Henlein, leader of the Sudeten German [Nazi] party in Czechoslovakia, this afternoon, halfway between Munich and the Czech border.

Calls at Foreign Office.

The British ambassador, who yesterday warned the Germans of the danger caused by mobilization of troops along the border of Czechoslovakia, again visited the Berlin foreign office this morning. He talked with Baron Ernst von Weiszaecker, undersecretary of state. Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop flew to Munich to confer with Hitler and returned to Berlin tonight.

For the first time the words "arbitration by England" were thrown into the discussions in the foreign office, but just how such arbitration is to be conducted was not mentioned.

A number of diplomats said Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Nazi No. 2, who was in favor of strong action to support the 3,250,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia, became alarmed by the warnings of the British ambassador.

Oppose "Adventure in East."

Britain's warnings also helped to strengthen the resistance of certain members of the German general staf who are opposed to an "adventure in the east."

Foreign military experts understand that most of the German troops are massed along the Bavarian-Czechoslovak border and along the Austrian-Czechoslovak border. They have been pouring into these districts for the last two weeks, while other strong contingents moved to a region near Glatz on the Silesian-Czech border.

200,000 Troops Along Border.

Foreign observers estimated that 150,000 soldiers and about 50,000 Storm Troopers and Schutzstaffel men [hand picked Hitler guards] were strung around Czechoslovakia on pan-German territory.

German strategists explained that if a conflict broke out between Germany and Czechoslovakia it would be useless for the Germans to try to enter Czechoslovakia between Eger and Decin, where the Czechs have constructed a "Maginot defense line." The Germans admit it would be extremely difficult to cross at this point.

The Nazis had been confident they could enter Czechoslovakia from the north and south in event of war. The general staf shared this opinion until a few days ago.

In the meantime rumors spread that Austrians are growing more resentful of the campaign to compel them to become as efficient as the Prussians, and the appointment of German Nazis to important posts in Austria.

Dr. Arthur Seyss-Inquart, governor of Austria, was reported to have sent to Hitler a letter of protest in which he expressed disappointment and resentment at German rule. It is said he warned the Fuehrer it is impossible to "Prussianize" Austrian soldiers.

The general staf realizes that for German troops to be mobilized in an area where the population is restless is a dangerous situation.

Economic experts have warned the general staf that in view of the food shortage it would be dangerous for the army to "strike" before harvest time unless officers are convinced they can reach their goal quickly.

Word was received here that special guards have been posted along railroad bridges in Czechoslovakia, especially in the Sudeten German territory. The action was taken after rail ties were found loosened on the line from Prague to Bodenbach, near Aussig.

Firm Stand of Three Powers Checks Hitler, France Believes

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, May 22.—Official Paris was breathing a little easier tonight as election day in Czechoslovakia passed off without new incidents. At the same time the diplomatic aspect of the problem made valuable progress toward clarity.

There is now no doubt in any one's mind that if Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler of Germany attempts a direct military attack on Czechoslovakia, France, Russia, and England will enter the war at once as allies of the Czechs. The attitude of Italy is uncertain, but the best guess is that it will remain neutral in the face of this formidable lineup.

Wary of British Pressure.

On the other hand Czechoslovakia's trouble is far from over. Neither France nor Russia appear to be in a position to moderate the pressure which Great Britain is expected to start exerting on the Czechs to come to terms peaceably with Hitler. Observers here think that in the end Hitler will be given nearly everything he wants from Czechoslovakia without a fight.

Four important facts emerged from Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet's diplomatic consultations today:

FIRST—Yesterday's impression that the British really will take a firm line in Berlin was abundantly confirmed. Remembering the tragic blunder of British diplomacy in 1914, Viscount Halifax, foreign minister, and Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain apparently have taken great pains to leave no doubt in German minds that they will be on the French side the moment war starts.

SECOND—British firmness, as learned here, applies only to a case of unprovoked attack by Germany. It will be balanced by very strong diplomatic pressure in Prague to obtain "maximum concessions" from the Czechs.

THIRD—The soviet attitude, which sometimes has appeared to be equivocal, now appears perfectly clear in the eyes of the French. France has received formal assurances that Russia will live up to its treaty obligations towards Czechoslovakia and has been able to obtain unofficial confirmation of these assurances from sources which the government apparently considers trustworthy.

FOURTH—Premier Edouard Daladier and Bonnet, after unofficial soundings in political and journalistic circles, are at last said to be satisfied that Nazi propaganda will not paralyze French mobilization in case mobilization should be necessary.

The Germans and Italians thought they had arranged with a sufficient number of opposition political leaders and journalists to insure the overthrow of any French cabinet which would venture to mobilize for Czechoslovakia. It is difficult to say how high up these intrigues reached—possibly into the cabinet itself—but in any case responsible leaders in France now are satisfied that they have been scotched.

Expel Nazi Sympathizers.

Ultra-conservative right wing leaders, such as Andre Tardieu, former premier, and Louis Marin, former minister and president of the Federated Republicaine de France, and even Pierre Etienne Flandin, former premier, now appear to be using their influence with political associates to rid the organizations which they control of Nazi sympathizers and muzzle the Nazi propaganda in their party organs.

Today Bonnet conferred at length regarding the situation with American Ambassador William C. Bullitt, who had canceled a week-end in the country because of the crisis. Bullitt immediately telephoned a confidential report to Washington, D. C.

Bonnet also called in the Polish minister to whom, it is reported, he spoke sharply and menacingly about Poland's complicity in the German intrigues against Czechoslovakia.

BOMBING PLANE AGAIN MENACES HEAD OF MEXICO

Driven Away by Federal Combat Flyers.

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, May 22.—(AP)—Federal combat craft today drove off a rebel plane which made a second attempt to bomb the Villa Hermosa residence of President Lazaro Cardenas.

President Cardenas.

A fast transport ship of the bomber type, identified by federal authorities as one of two planes in possession of the rebel chieftain, Gen. Saturnino Cedillo, dropped four bombs near Cardenas' field headquarters yesterday.

The bombs dug up the earth along a nearby airfield where Cardenas had stationed an air squadron to help put down the "Cedillista" rebellion, but did no other damage.

Villa Hermosa is three miles from San Luis Potosi, the headquarters of Cardenas' punitive campaign. Guards around the villa were increased.

Works Far Into Night.

Here to put down the revolution, President Cardenas is working from 7 a. m. to midnight every day at his headquarters. He receives commissions of peasants and workers, confers with state authorities, and rarely meets his military aids. Last night at supper—yesterday was Cardenas' 43d birthday anniversary—"Cedillistas" and Cedillo, the rebel leader, were not mentioned. Cardenas said he attached "no importance" to attempts to bomb his villa, but guards there were strengthened.

The government, determined to smash the Cedillista rebellion in San Luis Potosi state before it flares into civil war, reinforced its punitive expedition and mapped a cavalry mop-up of Cedillo's peasant army.

The defense ministry dispatched the 36th infantry battalion from the capital to back up hard riding cavalrymen among the 10,000 men Cardenas had concentrated in the state.

Twenty-five Persons Killed.

Actual warfare between federal troops and the "Cedillistas" broke out yesterday when 200 cavalrymen clattered into Rio Verde, sixty miles southeast of the provincial capital, San Luis Potosi, and drove out a rebel force. Twenty-five persons were killed—twenty-two rebels, a federal captain, and two federal privates. Fifteen rebels were wounded and eighty captured.

Meanwhile, Mateo Hernandez Netro, governor of San Luis Potosi, disappeared from his state capital leaving a note that designated the chief of the state Supreme court as acting governor. A group of other governors supporting President Cardenas last night told Hernandez Netro he must show quickly what side of the fence he is on. His disappearance followed.

A government estimate put the number of men under Cedillo's command at 2,000—a marked reduction from the 18,000 to 20,000 credited to the agrarian leader before the outbreak.

Hunted by Federal Planes.

Deployed through the hills of San Luis Potosi state, they were being hunted out by eighteen reconnoitering federal planes.

The whereabouts of Cedillo, who until last week was a general in the federal army and until last Aug. 16 Cardenas' secretary of agriculture, was unknown.

Dispatches from Matamoros, across the Rio Grande from Brownsville, Tex., said the "strong man" was expected there tomorrow, en route to the United States.

Lives Her Role

ELEANOR KING.

New York, May 22.—(AP)—Eleanor King, the "mother" in the widely discussed film, "The Birth of a Baby," became a mother in reality tonight. An eight pound son was born to her in Doctors hospital. In the motion picture an unidentified mother "doubled" for Miss King in the scenes of the birth. In real life Miss King is the wife of Lowell M. Birrell, an attorney.

HEIRESS FLEES FROM HOSPITAL; FOUND IN HOTEL

New York, May 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Martha Lee Williamson, 34 years old, Charlotte, N. C., heiress for whom a wide search had been conducted since she disappeared from Doctors hospital last midnight was found tonight by her husband, William Williamson, in a New York hotel.

The management of the Martha Washington hotel, where she registered shortly after she had slipped from the hospital clad only in a flimsy nightgown and a dressing gown, but wearing rings valued at $5,000, recognized her from a description and communicated with her husband.

Williamson went to the hotel to meet his wife. Wearing an expensive looking evening wrap, she left the hotel with him at once for the hospital.

Mrs. Williamson's father, the late W. States Lee, associate of the late James B. Duke, died three years ago leaving an estate of several millions.

Bandits Use Ruse to Rob Watch Repairer in Store

Two men visited George Ruff's watch repairing store at 3203 Armitage avenue three times Saturday night, purchased a few trinkets, then returned early yesterday as he was closing, and gained entrance by a ruse. The men forced Ruff, his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gibson, 3533 Palmer square, into a closet. Then they ransacked the store, took $255 and fifty watches, and left. After an hour in the closet Ruff notified the police.

R. L. BUELL TELLS EUROPE U. S. WILL ENTER NEXT WAR

Foreign Policy Association Head Attacks Hitler.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, May 22.—Raymond Leslie Buell, president of the Foreign Policy association, a privately financed and unofficial American organization, has granted a number of interviews on what many Poles believe is the foreign policy of the United States. These interviews have been featured in Polish newspapers since his arrival in Warsaw to investigate conditions in Poland.

Buell greatly cheered the Poles by stating emphatically that participation of the United States in any future major war in Europe was assured and that the feeling of Americans against Reichsfuehrer Hitler is far more intense than it was against Kaiser Wilhelm in 1917.

Cites U. S. Arms Program.

Buell also informed the Poles that if any nation succeeds in arousing the martial spirit of the Americans it will be Germany rather than Japan.

Quoting figures, he said the United States was in the midst of the largest peacetime armament program in its history. He claimed this program has popular support. Both naval and air fleets are being quickly augmented, and the policy of seeking to isolate the United States from the quarrels of Europe is weakening, he said.

After investigation in Germany and Italy, Buell said he is convinced that neither Hitler nor Premier Mussolini of Italy could survive a war which lasted more than six weeks.

Received by Foreign Minister.

Foreign Minister Joseph Beck received Buell and it is believed here that the latter's activities may even influence Poland's foreign policy.

American diplomats are displeased with Buell's activities. His interpretation of Washington's foreign policy was said to be regarded as seriously inconveniencing the activities of the official American representation in Warsaw.

Buell's promises of American participation in Europe's next war have been published widely in Europe.

BUELL RESEARCH EXPERT.

Raymond Leslie Buell, a historian, was elected president of the Foreign Policy association in November, 1933, succeeding James G. McDonald who was appointed league of nations high commissioner for German refugees.

Buell for six years had been research director of the association and was a lecturer on international relations at Harvard university.

The Foreign Policy association is a private research organization and has no official connection with the American government. The association from time to time publishes reports submitted by the various writers for its research department and dealing with foreign political and economic affairs.

BOOK DEFENDING WINDSOR CALLED 'SLUR ON HIS KIN'

London Paper Gives Up $25,000 Story Rights.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 22.—Denouncing its own $25,000 scoop as a "scabrous attack" on the "house of Hanover," the Sunday Pictorial told its readers today that it had refused to print Novelist Compton Mackenzie's "Windsor Tapestry," which it branded a "shameful book."

Compton Mackenzie.

In a three page article, signed by Editor Hugh Cudlipp, the Pictorial called Mackenzie's play-by-play account of royal backstairs romances and sadistic quirks of long dead rulers "the most bitter and uncontroled denunciation of the ancestors of the present king and queen that ever has disgraced a single volume."

Then, summarizing the expensive serial it will not run, the paper said the well known English author "strives to draw up an indictment against our ruling house more damnable than the most violent anti-royalist would dare attempt in Britain."

"Disservice to Duke of Windsor."

An excerpt from the book:

". . . at first the young princess swore nothing would persuade her to marry her detestable cousin, not even if she were dragged to the altar. When she was presented to the loutish and surly young electoral prince she fainted." [Referring to the marriage on Nov. 21, 1682, between George I. and his 16 year old cousin, Princess Sophia Dorothea of Zelle.]

Editor Cudlipp, denouncing the book also as an "atrocious embarrassment" to the present king and queen and a disservice to the duke of Windsor, whom it defends, printed on the Pictorial's first page a picture of the check for £5,000 [$25,000] sent six months ago to Mackenzie for newspaper publication rights to the book.

"Outraged nature, smothered passions of wives, reputed mistresses discarded, is how Mackenzie tells the story of the ancestors of the royal family," says Cudlipp.

"Should Never Have Been Written."

"The serialization rights to the book were offered and accepted," he added, "but the book never will be serialized in this journal or any other newspaper. It is our view that parts of this book should never have been written.

"I have read 'Windsor Tapestry.' It is my view that the sensible man will lay it down with no words of adulation, but only of contempt and anger."

Nazis Get Poison Gas from Onions; People Eat Chips

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, May 22.—Onion chips in small wax paper bags made their appearance in Berlin today. Sale of the chips is believed to be aimed at preventing wastage of onions from which, it is reported, poisonous gas for bombs is now being made. Germans have been turning out a synthetic "mustard" gas, but it has proved unsatisfactory. Munitions firms have bought 5,000 tons of onions for the manufacture of the new gas.

Pursued and Slain by Jap Mechanized Army.

Fleeing in Small Groups.

In one instance Japanese trucks were lining up outside a small village, while in the fields outside were tiny black animated dots against a green background—Chinese about to be attacked.

At one point east of the Tientsin-Pukow railway line a long Chinese column moved unimpeded into a mountainous region. For miles then among trees along the road could be seen small groups of men.

At the northern end of the battle area we saw one Japanese column stretching at least two miles along the highway. It included a long train of trucks and cavalry troops.

A green, elephant shaped observation balloon tugged at its cables as it was hauled along in the line of march.

The thermometer in the plane registered 85 degrees Fahrenheit. The troops below were canopied by dust clouds rising in the sweltering heat.

Bombing Planes Busy.

Banking gently as we approached Suchow, and turning to the west smoke plumed toward the heavens from dozens of villages. "Our bombing planes have been busy," commented a Japanese officer.

The north and south sections of Suchow were a shambles but the center of town appeared untouched. We dipped low enough to see long lines of abandoned freight cars, with here and there a locomotive. In streets on the outskirts of Suchow there were gray clad bodies sprawled in profusion.

We lifted high above the war-scorched earth to follow the Lunghai, China's broken "life line" railway. From a point where a shattered iron bridge marked the spot where the Japanese first broke the railway, the Lunghai pointed away into white mist where the Japanese and Chinese continued to battle for possession of the line.

Below there continued an endless ebb and flow of Japanese columns. Above us were Japanese war planes.

Bomb Peking-Hankow Line.

Meanwhile the Japanese staged their first air raid on the Peking-Hankow railroad, down which they plan to drive on China's provisional capital, Hankow.

Thirty-four Japenese planes dumped twenty-four bombs on Chumatien, an important station just north of Hankow, to which China moved part of her government after the fall of Nanking. The raiders reported destruction of the Chumatien railroad station, considerable trackage, gasoline tank cars, and munitions dumps.

The Japanese have expressed determination to seize Hankow after cleaning up in the Suchow area, which is 350 miles northeast of the provisional capital.

West of Suchow the Japanese reported a major offensive under way toward Chengchow, at the junction of the Lunghai and Peking-Hankow railroads in Honan province.

A Japanese army spokesman said the rapidly advancing troops occupied Lanfeng, 75 miles west of Suchow, opening the way for a drive on Kaifeng, 25 miles farther westward.

FAILS IN SUICIDE ATTEMPT.

Mrs. Marie Thomas, 40 years old, of 4839 Roscoe street, was recovering in the County hospital yesterday after an attempt to commit suicide by poison following a quarrel with her husband.

3 British Sailors Injured as Rebels Bomb Valencia

VALENCIA, May 22.—(AP)—Three English sailors were wounded critically today when a bomb struck the 3,995 ton British merchant ship Penthames during a Spanish rebel air raid. The ship caught fire. The Penthames was unloading wheat when a low flying rebel plane bombed her. Six other planes in the squadron flew on to bomb the nearby town of Sagunto.

SPANISH REBELS PREPARE TO OPEN BIG COAST DRIVE

Seize Improved Positions East of Teruel.

HENDAYE, France [at the Spanish Frontier], May 22.—(AP)—Spanish rebel forces ran into heavy government artillery fire today in brief skirmishes on the Teruel-to-the-sea Front.

The skirmishes were seen as the prelude to a general coastal offensive, the first major objective of which would be to bring Castellon de la Plana under rebel control—a prerequisite for the capture of Valencia, which is the chief coastal gateway of supplies for beleaguered Madrid.

Mountain Captured.

It was considered likely that the greatest rebel pressure would be against the government defenses between Villafranca del Cid and Alcala de Chisvert, coastal highway town about twenty-five miles north northeast of Castellon.

Castellon, itself a Mediterranean port, lies about forty miles northeast of Valencia.

A dispatch from rebel Saragossa conveyed a report that El Pinar mountain, in the Corbalan sector, northeast of Teruel, a position of great strategic importance in the drive toward the Teruel to the coast highway, had been wrested from the government. The rebels estimated the number of government dead at 300.

Renew Catalonia Fighting.

Meanwhile Spanish loyalist forces launched a sudden offensive on the almost forgotten Catalonian front in northeastern Spain where heavy inroads were reported on rebel lines.

The government forces lashed out against the rebels at Tremp, hydro-electric power center, 95 miles northwest of Barcelona, and at Balaguer, twenty-five miles south of Tremp. Dispatches from Barcelona, government Spain's provisional capital, said the offensive netted consistent gains. Rebel commanders disputed this.

FIREMAN DIES, 3 OVERCOME BY PAPER BLAZE

Fireman David Walsh of 920 Newport avenue was fatally overcome with smoke last night while fighting a fire in the one story section of a paper warehouse at 3227 South Kedzie avenue. Three other firemen, all members of engine company 109, were taken to St. Anthony's hospital.

They are Lieut. Otis Williamson, 6536 Blackstone avenue; John Proney, 2636 South Kedvale avenue, and James Sistek, 2515 South Avers avenue. All are members of Engine company 109.

Division Marshal Joseph Sullivan explained that a fireproof wall, separating the one story section from the three story part, caused dense smoke clouds to issue from the heavily packed bales of paper. Three other firemen were treated at the scene.

Boat Wrecked, but Escaped Convicts Reach Jamaica

KINGSTON, Jamaica, May 22.—Trying to reach the United States from Trinidad, where they arrived by boat to get provisions and water and were ordered to sea, eleven French convicts who escaped from Devil's Island were brought here this afternoon by police. Their boat was wrecked last night a few miles south of Kingston.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—(AP)—The young man on the flying trapeze had nothing on Wallace Gough, who can chin himself although he's only 6 months old.

Papa Galen Gough calls Wallace the strongest baby in the world. Wallace also climbs a ladder like a fireman, and he can sit up from a lying-down position without using his hands. Easy? Try it.

PITTMAN AGAINST PACT UNTIL JAPS 'REMEDY WRONG'

Washington, D. C., May 22.—(AP)—Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], chairman of the senate's powerful foreign relations committee, contends Japan must "remedy the wrong" done in treaty violations against China before the United States would be justified in signing a new nonaggression pact with her.

Pittman took this position in an interview when asked for comment on a recent statement by Koki Hirota, the Japanese foreign minister.

Pittman said he was satisfied the foreign relations committee would not look with favor on such a treaty, nor would the senate be willing to ratify it at the present time.

"Our government does not have to be bound by treaty to prevent it from engaging in acts of aggression against Japan," he said in response to further questions. "Japan's contempt for and violation of treaties would be no assurance to the United States.

"Until Japan remedies the wrong done in her violation of the covenant of the league of nations and the nine-power treaty in her aggressions against China, no government, in my opinion, is justified in entering into a political treaty with her."

"Our government has not recognized the conquest of Manchuria," he pointed out. "Nor will it, in my opinion, recognize the conquest of any other part of China until the Chinese government recognizes by treaty such a conquest."

administrative boards because the National Labor Relations board, created by legislation sponsored by the federation, had turned out to be a tool of John L. Lewis' C. I. O. to destroy the federation, according to Mr. Green.

As a result of this split in labor ranks the bill was rejected by the house. Recently it was revived at the insistence of the President, but in the form favored by Mr. Green—a flat minimum wage and maximum hour provision for the whole country and all interstate commerce industries without the intervention of any board. The bill, now scheduled to come before the house tomorrow, provides for a minimum wage starting at 25 cents an hour and rising in three years to 40 cents an hour and hours of labor beginning at 44 a week and descending to 40 a week in two years.

Backed by Northerners.

In its present form the revised house bill is supported by the New Dealers and by many conservative Democrats and Republicans in the north because it would tend to break down the industrial advantage enjoyed in the south. Compelled to pay higher wages, southern textile mill owners and other manufacturers would no longer be able to undersell their northern competitors.

If the house passes the bill in this form it will run into a storm of opposition in the senate. The southern Democrats have served notice that they will filibuster all summer if necessary to force the adoption of wage and hour differentials favorable to retention of the south's industrial advantage. If they succeed, however, the bill will be made unacceptable to the northern Democrats and Republicans seeking to erect a tarif wall against the south.

They get a "pick-up," for candy is a delicious food.

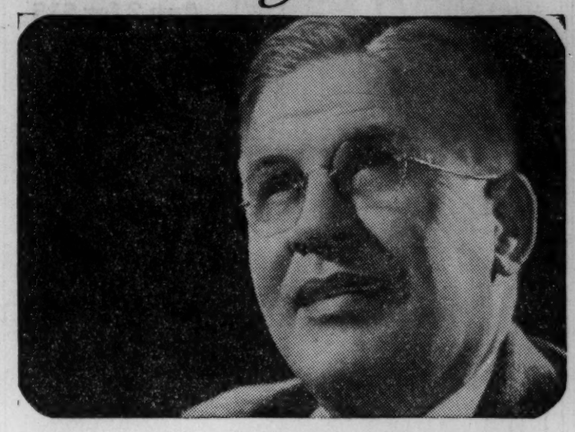
"TODAY I'm Going to FLY!"



"I'm going to New York on an AMERICAN FLAGSHIP!"

Here's the way it happened . . . I've always dreaded the long, tedious trip to New York . . . Sure, I know planes make it in only three hours and fifty-nine minutes, but I never associated flying with my own travel needs.

Then George Sheridan got hold of me. "Look," he said, "I've flown to New York a dozen times. I'm keen about flying and so is my wife. She says now that it's the only way to travel."

He went on to tell me about American's choice of three routes to New York—and their great Flagship Club Planes that are nature-cooled in flight. Here's the way George put it, "A dandy meal aloft, a chat or a good book . . . perhaps a snooze in a comfortable lounge chair . . . and the stewardess says, 'Wake up! Here's New York.'" . . . It sounded pretty good. So I called American Airlines and made my reservation on the non-stop ARROW leaving at 5 pm standard time. I was surprised at the low fare—only $44.95—and the saving of 10% on round trip tickets. On my return I'm going to stop over at Washington at no additional fare.

A Choice of Three Different Routes To New York when you fly American: Go one way—return another. Stop over anywhere en route, all at the regular round trip fare. And you can include Boston for very little more.

CAVALRY READY FOR ATTEMPT TO TAKE FORT KNOX

Mechanized Brigade Will Turn to Offensive.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., May 22.—[Special.]—The second phase of the mechanized 7th cavalry brigade's maneuver ended last night when the 3,000 troops went into position facing the concentration point of an imaginary enemy.

The problem now changes from one of defense to one of offense. In the new phase the brigade will represent an invading force of Black troops which will march north at 6 a. m. tomorrow in an attempt to capture Fort Knox and its hoard of gold.

Owing to economy practiced by the army, no blank ammunition will be expended until next Wednesday, the final day, when the cavalry brigade will engage the 10th infantry brigade defending Fort Knox.

March to Nashville.

The general plan of action announced calls for a march to Nashville tomorrow, bivouacking there until late Tuesday afternoon. A night march then will be undertaken in time to reach Fort Knox at daylight, when the battle will be staged.

Under the special hypothetical situation, information has been received that hostile forces are mobilizing in the Indianapolis-Dayton area and a strong reconnaissance force is moving south.

So far no information has been obtained as to where this force will cross the Ohio river. For this reason the brigade commander deems it wise to advance to Nashville, which is centrally located. Aerial patrols and advanced ground reconnaissance is expected to locate the opposing force while main body is marching to Nashville.

All Vehicles in Operation.

Casualties on the march yesterday consisted of 18 vehicles belonging to the 1st and 13th cavalry and one from the 68th field artillery. All trouble was minor and the machines rejoined their commands during the march or shortly after it was concluded.

Human casualties consisted of two appendicitis cases picked up during the day and brought to Oglethorpe for operations. Both patients are doing well.

One civilian car was wrecked trying to break through the column contrary to warnings. The occupants were injured.

CHILD KILLED CHASING BALL.

NEEL B. ENSLEN, FORMER SINGER, IS FOUND DEAD

New York, May 22.—(AP)—Neel B. Enslen, 38 years old, radio announcer and former baritone of the American Opera company, was found dead today in the gas filled kitchen of his apartment. Under the door was a penciled note which read, "Don't smoke cigarets and don't light matches."

Associates said Enslen returned to work recently after four months' absence due to illness. A native of Delphos, O., he scored a success in "Carmen" while singing with the American Opera company in Chicago. He had been announcing for the National Broadcasting company since 1929, the Lowell Thomas programs having been among his regular assignments.

Enslen's mother, Mrs. C. O. Enslen, lives in Chicago. His wife, the former Beatrice Kneale of Akron, O., who starred in the musical comedy production "My Maryland," was visiting when the body was found.

U. S. OPENS PROBE OF SILVERSHIRTS, ANTI-JEW LEGION

Looks Into Threats Made Against Roosevelt.

Federal secret service agents are investigating the activities of the Silvershirt Legion of America as the result of several of its meetings held in Chicago recently, it was learned yesterday. The legion, formed five years ago in North Carolina, is an anti-Semitic organization.

The inquiry was begun after Gov. Horner's attention was directed to the meetings by officials of the American League for Peace and Democracy. Statements of persons who attended the meetings then were turned over to Capt. Thomas Callaghan, head of the Chicago office of the secret service.

Charge Threats Against Roosevelt.

Secret service agents, it is reported, are particularly concerned over the charge that threats against the life of President Roosevelt were voiced by a Silvershirt leader at one of the meetings. Capt. Callaghan refused to discuss the investigation.

According to information given Gov. Horner and later turned over to Capt. Callaghan, the threats were uttered by a speaker during a tirade against the Roosevelt administration, Jews, communists, and the major political parties.

"If no one else will volunteer to assassinate Roosevelt, I'll do it myself," the speaker is reported to have shouted.

Affidavits Examined by Agents.

Gilbert Rocke, executive secretary of the American League for Peace and Democracy, asserted that affidavits in which several persons stated they heard the threats are in his possession and have been examined by Capt. Callaghan.

Records of the Silvershirt legion show that Roy Zachary is termed field marshal for the organization in the middle west. The group was organized in 1933 by William Dudley Pelley with headquarters at Asheville, N. C. In 1934 it was the subject of an inquiry by a congressional subcommittee.

Witnesses called by the committee testified at that time they understood the purpose of the organization was to take charge of the United States government and to deport all Jews.

WATCHMAN KILLED IN FALL.

Albert Krapel, 47 years old, 1760 Winnemac avenue, was killed yesterday when he fell twelve feet down an elevator shaft in the building at 1540 Armitage avenue, where he was employed as a watchman.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

MARS—AND MUSIC

By CALEB

A VISITOR from Mars seeking quick and comprehensive information about the earth's inhabitants might well begin his quest by visiting a modern department store in each major country.

A great department store faithfully mirrors the personality of the communities it serves. Thus, whenever we install a new department or enlarge one already in the store, it suggests that your tastes—and perhaps your personality—may be changing.

Recently we found it necessary to enlarge our Phonograph Record Department because of an increasing demand for records. Moreover, the percentage of records chosen from the concert, opera and symphonic group has gone steadily upward.

If the poet was right in his belief that a nation's taste in music is more important than its laws, then a significant change is under way. A steadily increasing number of us today want—and get—more and better music than ever before.

It seems certain that this renewed interest in recorded music is not gratified at the expense of radio. Indications are rather that it is something of an outgrowth of radio. Nearly all of the record playing equipment we sell today has a radio in combination.

Most of those who listen to music these days do so more intelligently and more critically than of old—whether the music be swing, folk tune, symphony, or grand opera. Music of all types is judged on a vastly broader basis of comparison—and it has to be good in its field to win approval.

The Three Corners Silver Cornet Band playing a dance in Community Hall is in competition with Goodman, Lombardo, and King—and knows it. Young lady sopranos with ambitions have an opportunity for some pretty thorough self-appraisal before launching a career.

And on the receiving end we have a nation far more preoccupied with good music than ever before in its history. Many who once thought symphony and opera highbrow and difficult, have learned easily and painlessly that good music has an appeal for even the simplest souls.

If, as the poet believed, good music means good citizens, then here is one more reason to view our country's future with optimism and pleasant anticipation.

PLAN TO REMAKE CONSTITUTION TO FACE HARD FIGHT

Needs Two-Thirds Vote of Both Houses.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Gov. Horner's proposal for an Illinois constitutional convention faces two difficult obstacles, observers pointed out yesterday. First, the resolution embodying the plan must obtain the favorable two-thirds vote required in each house in the special session of the general assembly. Second, adoption of the proposal in the election next November would require a majority of all votes cast.

Experience running back through the sixty-eight years in which the present basic law has been in effect, but particularly in the last twenty years, has demonstrated just how big both obstacles are. The joint legislative resolution always meets with opposition which this time, it is said, will be stiffer than usual. The popular vote on such a proposition when last submitted in 1934 showed only 23.5 per cent of the voters in favor of it.

Pressure for Income Tax.

It is the general opinion at Springfield that the specific goal now sought with most eagerness is the revision of the revenue article of the constitution in order that a state income tax may be levied. Since Cook county would pay four-fifths of such a levy, the hostility of legislators from Chicago, its suburbs, and other large communities is considered certain.

Chicago and other cities of the state also are vitally interested in the question of legislative apportionment involved in two ways in the Horner proposal. Because of the assembly's persistent refusal since 1910 to redistrict the state, it is possible for one-third of the population to control the convention. Two delegates would be elected from each district. The twenty-six smallest districts, including a population of less than 2,500,000, would have a voting power greater than the remaining twenty-five districts with a population in excess of 5,500,000.

Another Angle to Question.

The other angle of the reapportionment question is that a convention made up in this way might be counted upon to put into a proposed new constitution a provision definitly limiting the representation in one or both houses of the general assembly.

In addition to these definite reasons for opposition to the convention idea, Republicans already are saying that the proposal really is a project to write the New Deal into the constitution of Illinois. They contend that Gov. Horner, who has backed the Roosevelt theories of social security and allied fields, would probably, because of the strength of his downstate machine, be at least a potent force in a constitutional convention set up in the next two years. By the election of handpicked delegates from vest pocket districts downstate, he might control it.

Detailed scrutiny of the history of constitutional development in Illinois demonstrate, it is believed, that there are extremely heavy odds against the working out of a new constitution in the near future, particularly so long as the present disturbed conditions continue. It is also indicated that any effort to modify the constitution even in a moderate degree would have extremely slight chances of success.

Only Eight Amendments Ratified.

Illinois has had three constitutions, those of 1818, 1848, and 1870, the last being the one now in force. Innumerable resolutions for conventions have been lost in the legislature. Three such proposals that reached the people were defeated overwhelmingly. Twice proposed new conventions have been rejected overwhelmingly by the voters.

Even amendments of the constitution have fared badly at the hands of the people. Only eight amendments have been ratified since it was adopted sixty-eight years ago, the last one in 1908 or thirty years ago.

The two big amendments most frequently presented for popular vote provided in themselves tests of the popular will that have distinct bearing on the present situation. If the chief aim of the present drive is to revise the revenue article, the records show that definite rewordings for this article were rejected overwhelmingly in 1916, 1926, and 1930.

The second big amendment most frequently attempted is the one known as the gateway amendment. Such a change would eliminate a present prohibitory provision of the constitution and allow amendments to more than one article to be submitted at the same election.

The gateway amendment was submitted to the people in 1892, in 1896, in 1924, and in 1932 and it was decisively beaten each time by the argument that it would open the door for too much tampering with the constitution.

The same attitude shown by the state toward these two amendments has been brought out clearly by the hostility of the voters toward the present demand for complete revision of the constitution.

First Constitution in 1818.

The constitution of 1818, adopted when Illinois became a state, was a brief instrument copied from the constitutions of Kentucky, Ohio, New York, and Indiana. Its shortcomings were attacked immediately, but proposals for its revision were defeated by popular vote in 1824 and 1842. In 1846 the proposition carried and the voters ratified the new constitution in 1848.

In 1862 there was a third constitutional convention, but the draft of the proposed basic law was rejected by the people. Immediately after the signing of peace between the north and the south the agitation for a new constitution was renewed and a proposal for a convention was carried in 1867 by a margin of only 704 votes out of a total vote of 444,860. As a result, the present constitution was proclaimed by Gov. John M. Palmer on Aug. 8, 1870.

In 1918 the machinery for a new constitution was set into motion again. That was before women won the franchise and a favorable vote of 562,012 or 57.6 per cent of the total vote authorized a convention. The 102 delegates held their first meeting on Jan. 6, 1920, and completed their work on Sept. 12, 1922, almost three years later.

The proposed constitution they produced was rejected the following December by a vote of 185,928 for to 921,398 against. Only 16.7 per cent of the voters approved the draft.

The 1934 proposal was sponsored by Gov. Horner. All Democratic factions supported it but with 1,467,597 as the majority necessary to pass it it received only 691,021 votes in the November election—785,575 short of the total required. In Cook county 27 per cent of the voters favored it and downstate the favoring vote fell to 20 per cent.

HOUSE EXPECTED TO VOTE RELIEF MEASURE TODAY

Funds Could Be Provided for Chicago by Thursday.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 22.—[Special.]—Passage by the house of representatives tomorrow of the bill appropriating $500,000 monthly for new relief needs in the state was predicted here tonight as members of the legislature arrived in advance of the session.

Most of this new grant, which bears the approval of Gov. Henry Horner, could be diverted to Chicago—probably as early as Thursday—but it is not sufficient to permit reopening the relief stations on a full time basis. At least that much more is needed by the city, which estimates its cash requirements for the remainder of 1938, in addition to present state aid, at $14,000,000.

Favor 14 Million Fund.

While the governor does not want more than a total of $4,500,000 taken from state funds for relief between now and next Feb. 1, many of the Chicago members feel the entire $14,000,000 should be appropriated from the treasury immediately and the problem settled once and for all.

Mayor Kelly, who was here last week and is expected to return Tuesday, has taken no open stand on this point, but it remains one of the whirligigs of the situation by reason of the contradictory contentions as to the actual state surplus.

Chicagoans—speaking through Senator Harold G. Ward, the mayor's Springfield leader—say there is a $19,000,000 balance in the treasury from sales and other tax collections. Ward was prepared to present bills to take the $14,000,000 outright when the session opened Friday evening, but at the mayor's request he withheld them.

Sales Tax Revenue Drops.

Neither the governor nor his spokesman ever have said just what they think could be appropriated for relief, if the maximum were made available. In his message advocating the $4,500,000 total [$500,000 a month for nine months] the governor said sales tax collections were falling [about $300,000 monthly below 1937, it is understood] and said that to this decrease in revenue must be added the $500,000 additional monthly load he approves for relief.

The governor said sales tax collections were dependent upon business conditions, which was taken as a hint he feels that should the Roosevelt recession continue the state might need all and perhaps more money than it anticipates for the costs of government.

Yet by the terms of the call, Mr. Horner is ready to give up almost $7,000,000, as follows: $4,500,000 for relief, $1,000,000 for distressed school districts, $700,000 for a new building at the University of Illinois, $20,000 for the burial of old age pension recipients, to which can be added perhaps $100,000 for the expenses of the special session.

War Romance

BERNICE JENTOFT.

Unlike most foreigners in China, Miss Bernice Alma Jentoft found romance in Japanese bombs. Miss Jentoft, formerly of 219 Sunnyside avenue, Elmhurst, went to Shanghai two years ago as an employé of a brokerage house.

Last November, after the Japanese bombs began shattering Shanghai, she went to Singapore. There she met James B. Stevenson, an insurance executive. It was love at first sight.

Miss Jentoft came home to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony E. Jentoft, then returned last week to San Francisco to meet Stevenson. Instead of waiting for the California three day marriage law, they were married Thursday at Reno, Nev., and yesterday were on a honeymoon in the Canadian Rockies. They plan to live in Singapore.

ELIGIBLE FOR DOLE AID

Charles E. Miner, state Works Progress administration director, said yesterday that Illinois would qualify for a portion of the funds if congress should appropriate 50 million dollars for direct relief. Such a measure, for relieving immediate needs, will be considered in the senate this week.

Mr. Miner said he had submitted surveys to WPA headquarters in Washington showing the increased relief needs in Chicago, Peoria, the Rock Island-Moline area, and the coal mining districts of Williamson, Franklin, and Saline counties.

If the funds are distributed through the WPA Illinois' share would be turned over to the Illinois Emergency Relief commission for state allocation, he said.

Meanwhile the Chicago Relief administration awaited legislative action in Springfield to provide emergency funds to care for 34,000 Chicago families deprived of their May relief checks when the CRA exhausted its funds last Wednesday.

Mayor Kelly yesterday agreed that the bill now before the legislature, which would appropriate $500,000 more a month for state relief, would still leave Chicago a million short of estimated monthly needs, but would not commit himself on what action should be taken to increase the amount.

FOUR YEARS OF DICTATORSHIP ENDS IN BULGARIA

SOFIA, May 22.—(AP)—Bulgaria returned to ostensibly democratic rule today after four years of dictatorial rule by King Boris III. The formal change came with the opening of the twenty-fourth ordinary national assembly selected in March elections.

The elections were called by King Boris in a step toward restoration of Bulgaria's constitution, which was suspended in 1934 when the king seized dictatorial powers.

The king urged the new deputies to take confidence from the near past and to coöperate "by new means and in a new manner" for the well-being of Bulgaria.

RADICALS SNUB GOV. PHIL; BACK HOAN FOR SENATE

Indorse Dammann for Wisconsin Governor.

BY THORNTON SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., May 22.—[Special.]—The Farmer-Labor Progressive federation, a group of nine radical state organizations which heretofore has given Gov. Philip F. La Follette its open support, today indorsed the nomination of Daniel W. Hoan, Socialist mayor of Milwaukee, for the United States senate and Theodore Dammann, Progressive party secretary of state, for the nomination for governor.

Daniel W. Hoan.

When the name of Gov. La Follette was offered as a nominee for governor the convention refused to consider it. Max Raskin, acting chairman, announced that La Follette is not a member of this organization and his name cannot be considered. The same announcement was made when the name of William T. Evjue, La Follette intimate and editorial spokesman for the Progressives, was offered.

Strong Man of Liberals.

If the convention action can be taken at its face value Hoan has replaced Phil La Follette as the idol of the radical units of Wisconsin. Hoan's name repeatedly was cheered in the convention as La Follette's never was. He was praised by the speakers even from the membership of the Progressive group as "the strong man of the liberals."

La Follette was not present and in the absence of Thomas Duncan, his executive secretary, there was no apparent La Follette spokesman to direct the convention along the governor's thoughts and wishes.

The convention named a complete state ticket in spite of an impression that prevailed among many that the procedure was being jockeyed, as it was two years ago, to avoid pledging support for office to a candidate opposed by Gov. La Follette.

Insist on Complete Ticket.

The explanation offered was that Dammann's nomination would satisfy the constitutional provision that a complete ticket be named and that Dammann, who is believed reasonable secure for reëlection as secretary of state will withdraw his name when Gov. La Follette makes announcement of his plans. The way was prepared for this by a resolution earlier adopted authorizing the new state board to fill vacancies on the slate should any candidate withdraw his name after being endorsed by the convention.

Gov. La Follette's name was proposed by A. G. Paffel of Spooner, a member of the Progressive party and chairman of the Washburn county Progressive club. It was offered, he explained to force a showdown by the convention on its position on the governor. La Follette never has joined the Federation which, although it was a creation of his executive secretary, Duncan, and designed to coordinate the radical bodies of the state behind the La Follette party.

Two years ago the federation convention avoided the La Follette issue by indorsing candidates for all offices but governor so that federation members would be free to support a candidate not a member of their organization. The Milwaukee Socialists came to this year's convention determined not to repeat that subterfuge.

Sees Dammann Withdraw.

Paffel declared after offering La Follette's name that his purpose was to compel the convention to declare itself. "It's all cut and dried," he declared, "you 'aint fooling any one a bit by nominating Dammann. He is going to withdraw and the federation will support Philip La Follette again without endorsing him."

The other names endorsed were:

For lieutenant governor, George Nelson, Milltown, Socialist party candidate for vice president two years ago; secretary of state, Walter Hunt, River Falls, former state senator; treasurer, Solomon Levitan, incumbent; attorney general, O. S. Loomis, incumbent.

The nomination of Mayor Hoan for the senate evoked the only demonstration of the two day convention, and although Hoan at once announced his refusal to accept the nomination, the convention declined to accept his refusal and followed it with a unanimous resolution that Hoan be drafted as the federation candidate.

ALMA COLLEGE PUTS EMPHASIS ON LIFE'S IDEALS

Formation of Character Aim of School.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Alma, Mich., May 22.—[Special.]—"A Laboratory of Living" is to be the slogan of the new régime in Alma college, which is entering the second half century of its existence under the leadership of Dr. John Wirt Dunning, for 22 years pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Kalamazoo. The church is fourteenth in size among the Presbyterian churches of America.

Dr. Dunning, whose father, the Rev. Homer B. Dunning, a missionary, was one of the founders of the college and who himself is a graduate of the class of 1904, soon is to move into the beautiful presidential mansion on the wide, green campus at the edge of this peaceful little town. He explained today the motives that led him to forsake a great church of 2,700 members to lead a liberal arts college which this year had 352 students.

Answer Typifies Ideals.

His answer is in line with the ideals that are being rededicated today on many a small liberal arts college campus—that the materialistic philosophy which has led to the totalitarian state, the worship of men gods, ruthless economic planning, the loss of freedom, has failed and that there must be a return to moral principles based on Christian philosophy.

"The salvation of society, the permanence of democracy," said Dr. Dunning, "rest not on mass changes but on small groups or on single individuals who have absorbed the first principles of intelligent, responsible living, and who set about in their local communities to express these principles in human relationships. This has a backing in history, which shows many times how little groups of strong individuals, who dedicated their lives to a human reform and lived it, have affected and changed the world about them.

Learning to Live.

"What this country needs is to learn how to live, the formation of character, the development of personality, how to relate the individual to public life. At Alma we will bend all our courses to teaching young people how to live personally in knowledge and culture, how to take their place in a democratic society like America, and the kind of ideals they ought to have for it.

"We are not interested in theology but in the application of Christian principles to life. We will do it all under the atmosphere of religion, not in a way to set religion apart from life, but to show that its principles are essential to right living."

Dr. Harry M. Crooks, retiring president of Alma, points out in an appeal for greater support of Christian colleges:

"Whatever the contribution of colleges direct to church and state, private educational institutions are truest to the very genius of America.

Cites Nazi Dictation.

"We are not now in danger of governmental control of intellectual movements in America. If the church colleges should tomorrow withdraw from the field, we should have the beginning of a long series of legislative enactments to dictate college and university teaching. The freest political and social teaching in higher education is now in the professorships of private colleges. We saw the results of a state compelling regimentation of great intellects in Germany."

One of the first things that is to happen at the new Alma is the establishment of a department of practical art, a sort of art laboratory for home makers, applying also to personal decoration. Five new members are to be added to the faculty of 21, and the salaries of the present members are to be increased.

Oldest Teacher Came in 1887.

The oldest member of the faculty is James E. Mitchell, who came to the college from a nearby farm when the doors first opened in 1887. He is Ammi W. Wright, professor of history and political science. The dean of the faculty is Dr. Silas O. Rorem, professor of education.

Alma students used to turn to the ministry as careers, but now the majority are majoring in science and education. The chemistry department is strong, and there is an alliance with Dow Chemical company nearby. The college library of 49,000 volumes is a unique institution, a center of campus life, where students are free to browse among the stacks.

Alma has remained strictly a liberal arts college. It has not yielded to the demand for professional training, with the exception that teacher training is offered in the senior year. For those who wish to go forward to specialization in graduate schools, the college offers honors majors which allow a student extended opportunity for specialization independent of regular class assignments.

[This is the first of a series of stories on the smaller liberal arts colleges of the middle west, the continuation of a similar series printed last summer. Another story will appear soon.]

COLORADO JURIST TO SEEK ADAMS' SEAT IN SENATE

Washington, D. C., May 22.—(AP)—The capital heard today that Justice Benjamin C. Hilliard of the Colorado Supreme court, who conferred with President Roosevelt recently, had entered the race for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Colorado against Senator Alva B. Adams.

In announcing his candidacy at Denver, Justice Hilliard said the senator had failed to support the Roosevelt administration. The justice added he intended to run on a strictly New Deal platform.

Since 1934 Adams has piloted the administration's big relief bills through the senate. He now is in charge of the $3,247,000,000 spending-lending measure.

MALONE GIVES UP TODAY TO START TERM IN PRISON

William H. Malone, former chairman of the state tax commission, will surrender today to the United States marshal to begin serving his sentence of two years in prison for violation of the income tax law.

Malone last night was back in his Park Ridge home, unsuccessful in an attempt to gain a pardon from President Roosevelt. His appeal previously had been denied by the United States Supreme court.

Mrs. Malone said her husband had arranged his business affairs and was ready to surrender to the marshal today. It is expected he will start immediately for the penitentiary.

400 AUTOMATIC RAIL CROSSING SIGNALS PLANNED

Year's Safety Projects to Cost $600,000.

BY HAL FOUST.

Flashing red signals will be installed at 400 more Illinois railroad grade crossings this year at a cost of $600,000, according to James M. Slattery, chairman of the Illinois commerce commission. Since 1933 the automatic warning devices have been placed at 463 grade crossings.

Warren Henry.

"This electrical equipment," said Slattery, "could save many lives if motorists would obey the signals as prescribed by the state traffic code."

Vehicles Must Stop.

Section 83 of the code reads:

"Whenever any person driving a vehicle approaches a railroad grade crossing and a clearly visible electric or mechanical signal device gives warning of the immediate approach of a train, the driver of such vehicle shall stop within 50 feet, but not less than 10 feet from the nearest track of such railroad and shall not proceed until he can do so safely."

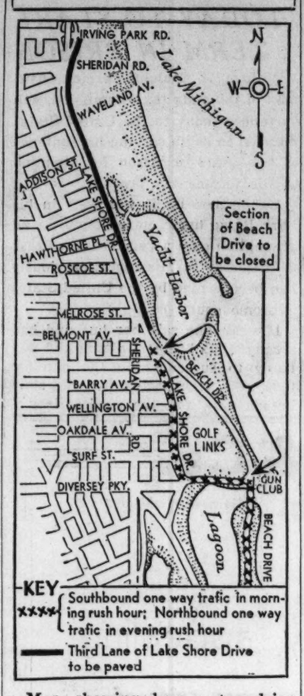
Warren Henry, the commission's assistant chief engineer, has determined by a field study that this regulation varies from common practice. He also found that several other common driving habits contribute materially to the death toll at grade crossings. These bad habits are pictured on the back page of THE TRIBUNE this morning.

How Death Occurs.

"Many drivers, on seeing a flashing red signal and also seeing a train," said Mr. Henry, "will step on their brakes or their gas, depending upon the speed and location of this train. A second train, which they don't see, often gets them.

"Even when there is no second train, surveys have shown that automobile drivers will take high risks. A crew with stop watches and tabulators recorded the actions of 1,688 cars approaching a flashing signal and found that 1.4 per cent crossed within 5 seconds before the locomotive."

Rerouting Trafic



Map showing how outer drive trafic will be rerouted for two weeks, beginning Wednesday.

Otto K. Jelinek, park district trafic engineer, said yesterday that trafic on the north outer drives will be rerouted for two weeks beginning Wednesday because of paving of the third lane of Lake Shore drive between Belmont avenue and Irving Park road, which will necessitate the closing of Beach drive between Belmont avenue and Diversey parkway.

For normal periods, Lake Shore drive, between Belmont avenue and Diversey parkway, will be a two way drive to admit northbound trafic from Beach drive that will be detoured across the park on Diversey parkway.

For morning rush periods, southbound motorists will not be permitted to turn left into Beach drive at Belmont avenue, but must drive south on Lake Shore drive to Diversey parkway before turning east to Beach drive. Northbound trafic will not be affected.

For evening rush periods, the routing will be reversed. Northbound motorists using Beach drive must turn west to Lake Shore drive at Diversey parkway. Southbound trafic will not be affected.

FALLS FOUR FLOORS TO DEATH.

Bernard J. Brady, 38 years old, 1112 East 64th street, an elevator repairman, was fatally injured yesterday when he fell from the roof of the four story apartment building at 6128 Woodlawn avenue.

BABY IS CRUSHED AS TRUCK BACKS OUT OF DRIVEWAY

Ronald Conn, year old son of Cecil Conn, 2000 22d street, North Chicago, a WPA worker, was crushed to death yesterday by a milk truck as it backed out of 2118 Stewart avenue, North Chicago, near the baby's home. Joseph Grum, 426 Victory street, Waukegan, the driver, did not know of the accident until police found him an hour later.

Frank A. Adams, 21, 3936 Maypole avenue, driver of a florist's delivery truck, was killed early yesterday in a collision with an automobile driven by John Lajack, 1030 North Winchester avenue, in Sacramento boulevard, near the Humboldt park lagoon.

Kenneth Hanson, 24, 540 South Harvey avenue, Oak Park, and Harold Fitzgibbons, 28, 814 Maple avenue, Oak Park, were injured yesterday when their automobile crashed into a drug store at 7200 Madison street, breaking the store door and a display window.

RADIO BLOCKADE OF ROADS NETS 2 AUTO THIEVES

A highway blockade directed by Lake county's two-way police radio system resulted in the capture early yesterday of two automobile thieves from Milwaukee. The thieves, Edwin Klapka and John Paschel, attracted suspicion when they refused to halt for Deputy Sheriffs Frank Valenta and Ray Simmers in Skokie boulevard, west of Waukegan. The deputies pursued. In Westleigh road, Lake Forest, the fugitives cracked their car up against a fence and fled on foot.

The deputies then requested radio aid. Police from seven north shore suburbs immediately blockaded all roads. Half an hour later Paschel and Klapka were seized by Sergt. Frank Metzgar of Lake Forest at Westleigh and Waukegan roads.

Let Thomas Help You to Save Your Hair

IF you are to avoid baldness you must give your scalp assistance in its hair-growing function. You are born with the scalp structure necessary to keep your hair growing as long as you live, and this structure does grow new hair to replace old, matured hair, until some local scalp ailment attacks it. If your scalp is kept healthy, within about 4 years all of the hairs which you now have will fall out and will be replaced by new, live hair.

You avoid baldness, therefore, NOT by trying to stop normal hair-fall, but by helping your scalp to grow new hair to replace the matured hair which falls. Thomas has perfected a scientific method of aiding your scalp in its normal hair-growing function.

Thomas' treatment first overcomes any local scalp infection (such as dandruff) which might be attacking the hair-growing structure. It then stimulates the sources of hair nourishment, and thus helps hair to grow in a natural manner. Abnormal hair-fall is normalized; dandruff is overcome; and new hair is grown on thin and bald spots.

NEW GELAFINISH REVOLUTIONIZES HAM FINISHING

Latest Development by Wilson & Co. Experts Widely Acclaimed!

The phenomenal success of Wilson & Co.'s Tender Made Ham, "the ham you cut with a fork," is still fresh in mind. It was a glorious step forward in the processing of ham that has made everything else obsolete.

Now, from the same source, comes another revolutionary creation—a new boneless all-purpose Tender Made Ham finished in a way that is absolutely new, offering many wonderful advantages.

This new and spectacular development is an exclusive gelatin finish, called Wilson's Gelafinish. Never before has ham or any other meat product been finished so enticingly, so usefully, and so appetizingly.

Wilson's new Gelafinish is exactly what it says—a thin, transparent finish of real gelatin applied by an exclusive Secret Process. It becomes literally a part of the meat itself and seals in the rich flavor and natural juices of the meat. Unlike artificial coverings, this new Wilson Gelafinish is wholesome, edible gelatin, a food in itself. It does not have to be removed.

Gelafinish is transparent, so that the natural colors of the meat, with all their appetite appeal, show through. The result is very attractive and distinctive.

Women will be interested in the economy features of Wilson's Gelafinish meat products. In the case of the new, improved Wilson Gelafinish Boneless Tender Made Ham, for example, there is literally no waste. It can be sliced perfectly, from end to end, and every slice is servable. Furthermore the amazing protective qualities of Gelafinish tend to keep meats fresh for a much longer time.

Another important feature of this new and revolutionary Gelafinish is product identification. You cannot mistake it because where Gelafinish is used even a single slice will carry enough of the brand marking to identify it and prevent substitution.

You will find that this new Wilson Gelafinish, created by the experts of Wilson & Co., is the most convenient method of putting-up ham and other fine meat products that has ever been used.

PLANTERS DECRY U. S. LIMITATION ON COTTON CROP

Loss of Foreign Markets and Jobs Predicted.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Athens, Ga., May 22.—[Special.]—Fear is spreading among southern planters that the revolutionary cotton acreage reduction under the AAA crop control program will increase their loss of sales of lint cotton in foreign markets, add to unemployment on the farm, and complicate efforts to improve their diversified program through gradual shifts to other crops.

Dr. Paul W. Chapman, dean of the college of agriculture, University of Georgia, declared here today that the longer the south has the government's cotton acreage reduction plan on its present basis, the faster exportation of cotton to foreign countries will be decreased. Many planters have the same conviction.

Reduces Market Abroad.

"The AAA was set up primarily to increase the price of our farm products," explained Dr. Chapman. "If the plan is successful in increasing the price of cotton up to parity level—to a price based on the American farmers' standard of living—it will tend to raise the price of our exportable cotton above the world price level. This will tend to reduce the market for American cotton in foreign countries. Foreign farmers will find it easier to sell their cotton in the world market.

Dr. Chapman believes the announcement of the AAA cotton reduction plan was a signal to farmers abroad to put more of their land in cotton—that this was the encouragement foreign farmers had been waiting for. Up to 1914, foreign cotton acreage had been increasing at the rate of 150,000 acres a year. Since the close of the world war the increase has been much greater. The AAA program is considered one of the most encouraging things that has happened to give them still further advantage over American cotton growers.

Use Behind Production.

Consumption of cotton has not kept pace with world production. The world today cannot consume all the cotton that is grown. This condition set the stage for reducing the acreage. But the United States growers are doing all the cutting, according to Dr. Chapman. He thinks one of two things must happen—this country is going to relinquish its cotton exports to other nations or fight to retain it.

"If we keep AAA on its present basis that will indicate our willingness to relinquish our foreign outlet for cotton," Chapman said. "Some think we ought to commit ourselves to a program of producing cheaper cotton. The only way we can do that is to lower the cost through more extensive use of machinery. This means that we cannot produce cheaper cotton except by releasing labor now employed in raising cotton by hand methods.

"It takes about 167 hours of hand labor to produce an acre of cotton, I am told. Machinery is now available that will produce an acre of cotton in 5½ hours. We have made little progress in producing cotton in the last 100 years except in the western part of the cotton belt, especially in Oklahoma, Texas, and parts of Mississippi. The improvement of our ginning process to take care of hulls and other materials is the big limiting factor in a more extensive use of the mechanical picker. Most of our cotton still is picked by hand."

The biggest problem facing Georgia and other southern states is the utilization of idle acres and employment for farm families formerly used in the growing of cotton. Unless these men, women, and children can be used, more and more of them will be forced into relief rolls.

Many Would Leave Farm.

Many of them will leave the farm and seek jobs outside the cotton belt. It is estimated that 50 per cent of all Negroes living outside the cotton states today are on relief, while not a high percentage of Negroes in the south are on relief rolls.

Dr. Chapman, accepted as one of the south's agricultural authorities, says that the farmers of the south want to continue to raise cotton, but if they cannot then they will be forced to grow many of the things now produced in the middle west and other sections. He also says the south will be compelled to release a great number of Negro and white farmers.

Farm leaders say that since cotton requires more hours of labor than any other crop excepting tobacco, no change can be made to other crops under a diversified plan that would not reduce the number of workers.

If Georgia farmers stay within their AAA allotment they will raise only 2,650,000 acres of cotton this year—almost exactly half that raised 20 years ago, and 500,000 acres less than last year.

Farmers in this state are being encouraged through various means to raise food and feed crops on the acres taken out of cotton. The state college of agriculture is coöperating with the Atlanta Constitution in a state-wide plant-to-prosper competition open to 200,000 Georgia farmers. Thousands of dollars in cash prizes are offered to get farmers to take part in a live-at-home farming program.

Turn to Other Crops.

Under this live-at-home plan Georgia farmers are growing more corn, oats, soy beans, legumes, hay, and pasture crops for food and feed. The feed crops are to be used to increase live stock breeding herds and to fattening cattle and hogs.

Georgia has been buying about $40,000,000 worth of live stock alone from other states annually. The annual per capita consumption of pork in the southeastern state is 133 pounds. Five years ago there were only two commercial packing plants in Georgia. Three have been added in recent years. One of them is considered the most modern in the world. Farmers have doubled their income from live stock in the state in the last five years.

DIES IN SLEEP ON TRAIN.

Samuel Schneider, 48 years old, of 4832 North Central Park avenue, died in his sleep early yesterday aboard an Alton railroad train en route from Bloomington. He was a former restaurant owner.

Minors in Tragedy

[TRIBUNE Photos.]

Stephen Funsten Jr. was the driver of an auto which was rushing Miss Tinling to a hospital when it collided with another car. He was killed.

order as she was carried to one side of the room.

Funsten, who had seen the suicide attempt, and Robert Gooley, 20, of 7111 Paxton avenue, a graduate of Hirsch High school, carried her outside to the former's parked automobile. They got into the car. Several others also climbed in. They were Miss June Drew, 14, of 7620 South Shore drive, a freshman at Hirsch; John Corr, 18, of 7651 Coles avenue, a senior, and nephew of the late Frank J. Corr, who served as acting mayor of Chicago a few years ago, and Claude Nieder, 22, of 7259 Vincennes avenue.

Funsten drove north in Vincennes avenue, and then turned east in 83d street. His destination was the Jackson Park hospital. At times he drove 60 miles an hour. Approaching Rhodes avenue, where there is a slight jog in the street, he veered too far to the north side of 83d street and rammed head on into a west bound car driven by James Montello, 40, of 1030 Union avenue, Chicago Heights. With Montello was Miss Theresa Pancrazio, 22, of 1211 5th avenue, Chicago Heights.

Girl's Condition Serious.

The crash wrecked both cars. Several of the tavern party, who had followed in another car, reached the scene and found Funsten, Miss Tinling and the others injured, and took them to the hospital. Montello and his companion disappeared to seek medical aid, he said later.

Funsten died soon after reaching the hospital. Miss Tinling was found suffering from iodine poisoning and injuries. Her condition was serious last night. Corr suffered a jaw fracture. Gooley's face was lacerated by glass. Nieder suffered a possible skull fracture and a leg fracture, and his condition is also serious. Miss Drew lost three teeth.

Burnside police, in whose district the accident occurred, questioned several of the injured and others who were in the party. From them they learned the story of Miss Tinling's alleged jealousy over Ballard's attentions to another girl. Ballard denied this tale. When asked whether he was Miss Tinling's sweetheart, he merely said, "I know her."

Police were less concerned with the motives that led to the fatal accident than with the conditions that made the drinking party possible. From young Gooley and others they learned that about ten rounds of beer were consumed. Among those questioned was Miss Claudia Drew, 17, a senior at the high school and sister of the injured June.

Gresham police arrested Uecker, the tavern owner. He admitted selling beer to the party but said he first asked the members their ages and was assured they were not minors. He admitted that he was fined $25 last September for selling to minors. He defended his sales in a manner by saying his beers were short, and not enough to produce intoxication.

News of the accident and the beer drinking that preceded soon spread on the south side. Mrs. L. E. Northshield, president of the Hirsch Parent-Teacher association, and Mrs. E. J. Whitman, retiring president of the Morgan Park High school Parent-Teacher association, expressed indignation.

Blames Parents, Too.

"Something must be done," said Mrs. Northshield, "and I will start some action in our organization. It is entirely wrong for tavern owners to sell to minors, and the bartender who can't tell a minor from an adult is not very smart. To some extent the parents must be held responsible for not educating their children to the dangers of drinking."

"This matter will be placed before the new officers of our association," promised Mrs. Whitman. "I know some action will be taken. As a matter of fact south side P.-T. A.s were planning on some drive against school children being sold liquor in taverns."

William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, promised last night that he would have Assistant Superintendent George F. Cassell, in charge of high schools, make an investigation into tavern drinking by pupils.

Police today will drag the river near the postoffice in an attempt to recover the revolver used in the holdup murder of Abraham Siplester, official of a Jewish aid society who was slain near his home at 3318 Monroe street on May 11.

The murder was solved Saturday night by the confessions of two bandits at the detective bureau. They are James Torrello of 2010 Grand avenue, who fired the fatal shot, and Bertram De Lisle, 3315 Van Buren street. Also under arrest is Anthony Tondolo, 3007 Jackson boulevard, who admitted his car and gun were used by the slayers.

The two bandits told police they threw the gun and a watch belonging to Siplester in the river. Two girl friends of the trio were questioned by police. They are Lillian Howard, 21, of 3315 Van Buren street, and Harley Rogers, 22, of 3307 Jackson boulevard.

CALL WITNESSES FOR TOMORROW AT CRABB TRIAL

Pekin, Ill., May 22.—[Special.]—Presentation of testimony at the trial of James Crabb, 22 years old, on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the slaying of his bride, Betty Crabb, 19 years old, last March 1, will begin Tuesday. Mrs. Crabb was shot to death in the home of her husband's father, Willis Crabb, Delavan banker, with whom the couple lived.

Opening statements were made by the state and defense yesterday. Judge Joseph Daily then adjourned the trial until Tuesday because J. M. Powers, defense attorney will be busy on another case tomorrow. Judge Daily permitted the jurors to return to their homes for the week-end, advising them not to read the newspapers or discuss the trial.

Attorney Powers in his statement yesterday repudiated an alleged confession in which the banker's son said he shot his wife during a scuffle for his revolver.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA'S FATE.

The crisis in Czechoslovakia is moving toward what must seem to the informed observer an almost unavoidable climax. Whether it will result in another European war no one can say at this stage, but in view of latest developments the danger is great.

Americans do not know much of the complicated factors involved. They are prone to simplify all problems which imperil peace. In the Czechoslovakian problem most of us regard it as a collision between a small republic defending its national integrity against the assault of German ambitions to expand and dominate. We can and should take this factor into serious account. Czechoslovakia obviously lies in the path of the German drang nach Osten, the urge to move southeastward toward the Mediterranean and Asia Minor. Long before Hitler rose to power this was a major policy of German statesmanship. It was defeated repeatedly by the other powers, but in present circumstances the weakness or caution of England and France, and the present complaisance of Fascist Italy, it would be strange if it were not revived by the masterful Nazi reich, at least for experiment.

On the other hand, the will of Germany is not supreme. There are still important restraints upon her ambitions to dominate eastern Europe and march triumphantly to the Mediterranean shores and the near east. This offers opportunity for negotiation and compromise. But American sympathies are not the best guide for judgment. We cannot like the prospect of an expansion of Nazi power and method. Our hope will continue that the Czechoslovak republic will be saved, as it deserves to be and as it might be if it were not internally divided and if it had a long history of relative unity as a state. It will give Americans a more rational estimate of the situation if they consider that Czechoslovakia is not the spontaneous product of a people's will to unity and independent existence, but the artificial creation of outside powers and interests to which the welfare of the people of the new state was secondary.

Czechoslovakia is primarily a project of the victors of the great war, a device of French diplomacy mainly, with the self-interested acquiescence of Britain and Italy. It was invented to be a buffer state and it is suffering an experience familiar to buffer states. A good part of its weakness arises from this fact. Created to serve foreign interests, its inventors did not much regard the weakness inherent in the artificial uniting of elements which for ages have disliked and distrusted one another and were only held together by the old Austro-Hungarian imperium. The Slovaks do not like or trust the Czechs or the Germans of old Bohemia, and neither do the Czechs and Germans like or trust each other or the Slovaks. There is also division among the Germans, between those who would like for economic and sentimental reasons to be united to their German cousins across the border and those who do not want to live under Nazidom.

Bismarck once said that if the Austro-Hungarian empire did not exist it would have to be invented. When it was broken up there was an ingenuous hope that its parts would enjoy independent existence, but the interests and forces which rule the affairs of Europe were not abolished by the so-called peace of Versailles. On the contrary, they were expressed in it and are in full force today. The conflicting peoples whose rancors and rivalries were held in leash by the old Austro-Hungarian empire, faulty as its rule was, have not spent their delusive freedom for unification and mutual support. Their experiments in alliance have not been thorough or extensive enough to meet their economic needs or provide formidable deterrence against aggression. This leaves the field open to stronger power and it will not be left vacant indefinitly.

THE POST GETS AN INJUNCTION.

A federal judge has issued an injunction to restrain Mayor Frank Hague and his Jersey City police from stopping the display of the New York Evening Post on Jersey City newsstands. Perhaps some of our readers expect us to sound off about the gallantry of the little New York newspaper in defending the freedom of the press against a rapacious politician. If so, they are going to be disappointed.

When the real fighting for the freedom of the press in our day was in progress the New York Post was conspicuously not in the front line trenches, at least not in our front line trenches. When Gen. Johnson sought to crack down on the newspapers a few of them took the position they would sign any reasonable code provided the constitutional rights of the press to its freedom were specifically reserved. Many newspaper publishers and editors were indifferent. It took a good deal of persuasion to bring them to fighting pitch. The New York Post and a few others were not indifferent. They opposed the reservation as superfluous or worse. They questioned the motives and good faith of those who favored the reservation and insisted there was no slightest danger that any one's constitutional rights would be infringed.

The stubborn refusal of the administration in Washington to accept the reservation gave the publisher of the Post no alarm. Perhaps he would be less determined today to believe in the devotion of ambitious politicians to constitutional freedom now that he has seen so prominent a Democratic politician as Mayor Hague seeking to suppress his newspaper and now that he has seen a Ku-Kluxer appointed to the Supreme court as a reward for voting to pack it with men of like mind.

At any rate, the Post was sitting pretty the other day when its suit for an injunction was heard. Other newspapers and other publishers, possessed of less trusting natures, had incurred much trouble and expense in recent years in carrying certain difficult cases to the Supreme court, where the rights of the press were clarified and reaffirmed. Meanwhile, too, these same newspapers have stressed the importance of a free press so often that the courts and the public are alert to prevent any infringement.

The issuance of the injunction was a victory for [but not by] the New York Evening Post.

WASHINGTON MOVES THE CORN BELT SOUTH.

Under the planned agricultural economy the number of acres that can be planted with corn in Illinois and Iowa and in parts of ten other states is determined at Washington. Last year corn was grown on 20 million acres in the two states, 9,266,000 in Illinois and 11,180,000 in Iowa.

The government has decided that in the interest of higher prices only 7,348,396 acres may be planted to corn in Illinois and 9 million 239 thousand acres in Iowa. That is, 3½ million acres which produced corn last year in the best corn growing part of the country must not be used for such purpose in 1938.

The farmers in central and western Illinois particularly are in revolt against the order. They are taking time off from their work at their busy season to protest against the restrictions upon their activities and to organize so as to make their protest felt.

THE TRIBUNE wondered whether the cotton farmers down south were more enthusiastic than the corn belt farmers about the orders from Washington. It sent Frank Ridgway, agricultural editor, to make a survey.

He has found that the farmers are cool to the orders to reduce cotton planting but are complying with them. But he found something which is highly important to the farmers in this part of the country. While the corn belt cuts down corn acreage, Dixie increases. In Alabama the further increase in corn plantings this year will bring its corn acreage to half of that of Illinois.

Much of the corn which is being raised in the south instead of cotton will be fed to hogs and cattle on the farms where grown. The reduction in cotton planting under the bounty from Washington has given the southern farmers the time and the land available for raising live stock. How hog raising, for example, is being diverted to the south by this favoritism is shown by the official figures. At the beginning of 1929 there were 14,917,000 hogs on Illinois and Iowa farms. At the start of the present year this number had been reduced to 11,638,000. By contrast, at the start of 1929 there were 5,048,000 hogs on the farms on North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, and Arkansas. At the beginning of the present year that number has been increased to 6,235,000.

The present agricultural law is a discrimination against the central states in favor of the south. Its explanation is the poor representation which the central states have had in congress in recent years. The southern states are represented by men who are determined to advance the interests of their states and effectively do so. With few exceptions, those at Washington from this section of the country are weak and ineffective. The same poor representation which accounts for the discrimination in the farm law and its administration explains the failure thus far of the representatives from this section to obtain the passage of the Pettengill railroad long haul bill, which would enable industries in the central states to compete with eastern concerns for west coast business.

THE FIELD OF HONOR.

The hypodermic operation on Monsieur Bourdet, administrator of the Comédie Française, seems to have been rather unsatisfactory. It did not effect the immediate lowering of temperature of Monsieur Bourdet, who demanded, without avail, that the affair with Bernstein, the playwright, continue. The requirements of outraged Honor were met, however, and Monsieur Bourdet lives to fire his fencing master and try again. We assume the matter is now ended, unless the hypodermic instrument known as an epee was not properly sterilized. But such inflammation as may remain may be expected to be confined to the emotions.

Americans should not go astray over the fact that one of the participants in this affair is administrator of the Comédie Française. It is not to be viewed in the comic spirit. We only expose our crass rusticity when we greet this ancient and honorable ritual with ribaldry. We cannot be expected to understand its mystic significance for Europeans. Americans used to fight duels, but the casualties were serious and gradually the pragmatic American mentality decided that a pistol bullet was after all an irrelevant and irresponsible agency for attaining justice or even for assuaging honor. It too often gave judgment for the wrong man.

These objections have not impressed French gentility, but, by a process that seems more of the genius of the Anglo-Saxon for practical compromise than of the French for logic, the duel has become a formality so carefully restrained by safeguards that its original sanction has disappeared. In its present innocuous form it is a curious specimen of infantilism in adult individuals who consider themselves highly sophisticated. But surviving infantilism, as the psychiatrists tell us, has a great deal to do with human affairs, private and public.

Editorial of the Day

SHE DIDN'T DO IT.

[Beloit (Wis.) News.]

Another legend is debunked in the day's news. "Peeping Tom," who was supposed to have been struck blind because he peeped at Lady Godiva on her famous ride through the streets of Coventry, England, is declared to be a myth. In fact, historical authorities now say, the story of Peeping Tom was added years later as an afterthought.

Not only is Tom a myth, it is stated, but Lady Godiva, while she may have existed, never made such a ride. Tales of such rides are said to be common in folk traditions of many lands.

However, thousands of tourists visit Coventry each summer, view the several statues which have been erected to Lady Godiva and the effigies of "Peeping Tom." The effigies are in scattered sections of Coventry, yet each is advertised as marking the spot where he was struck blind.

Which proves that even a debunked legend may continue to be a paying proposition and that most of us will pay to be fooled.

ADVICE TO A SLIPPING BEAUTY.

I know you still love him though he doesn't care,
But, lady, I wish you would look at your hair.
Remember when other gals cried in their beer
How you tittered and boasted "It Can't Happen Here"?

You bit for his line, now you're biting your nails—
But why bore your friends with your woebegone tales?
Forget the dramatics, the tears and the sighs—
Your lips should be red, not your nose and your eyes.

Love is like liquor, my maid of the moan—
So if you can't take it, just let it alone!

I was interested in your description of the neglected grounds of the late Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick. It brought back memories of thirty years ago, when our family lived across the way on Oak street. I recall seeing Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick and her three small children and their nurses playing on the lawn behind the tall iron fence. Strangely enough, over fifty years ago my father operated an "1890 cocktail lounge" with a family entrance and summer garden where the chromium glass fronted Rose Bowl is now located. He remained in business there for thirty-five years. I went to the Ogden school. Next door to us lived Flora Zabelle Mangazarian, later Mrs. Raymond Hitchock. Also Annabelle Whitford and father. I recall Mme. Schumann-Heink and William Rapp's wedding. . . . I marvel at the changes during the last fifty years. Lilian Sabath.

POSTSCRIPT TO THE SAFETY PARADE which went down State street on a recent noon: There were a police car and an ambulance heading the procession, then five wrecked automobiles towed along, each bearing a placard telling the number of persons killed, and then a float bearing six pine coffins. This was the end of the intended parade and lesson, but not of the procession. Just behind the float was a newspaper truck bearing the sign, "The Last Word in Sports."

NINO MARTINI GAVE A CONCERT in Shryock auditorium in Carbondale, Ill., recently. During the first number there was a terrific banging and crashing and every one turned to see the janitor and his assistants opening some of the long windows. Martini's poise was perfect. He finished the number and waited, probably hoping all the windows would be taken care of between songs. He started his second number, and more crashing and banging began. It was the same elderly janitor opening the windows on the balcony. Martini smiled and went on with his number, successfully drowning out the sound of a dragging ladder. Turns out the janitor's name was Coffee. For once Coffee should have preceded a Martini.

Hope This Doesn't Spoil Your Day.

A doting mother and her spoiled darling were ascending in the department store escalator, the mother cooing baby-talk to her offspring. As they approached the toy section, the child pointed to a large doll on display. "O, mummy, I want that," she cried, pointing to it. "Now, darling," sopranoed the mother, "if you had your choice would you rather have that nice doll or Robert Taylor?" "O, Robert Taylor," simpered the infant.

THE APPEAL OF MR. TAYLOR must be pretty universal. Two women on a Washington boulevard bus early in the morning on their way home from night work scrubbing in downtown buildings were overheard discussing which movie they would attend after they had had some sleep. Both were intent on finding one in which Robert Taylor was starred.

THE MAIL'S A PLEASURE AGAIN. Either more folks are pleased, or the critics have washed their hands of the Line. (That's putting our neck out.) . . . "Birth of a Drug Store" was the head a Mr. L. M. Butler had neatly typed above the item.

FIGHTING PAIN IN ARTHRITIS.

As long as the human family exists a substantial portion probably will become victims of arthritis. Well nigh an ever present disease, it is likely to manifest itself shortly after middle life and proceed slowly but insidiously.

As a rule we look upon the malady with too much hopelessness because spectacular cures are rare. Nevertheless each case presents a challenge to the attending physician. If he will study every afflicted person with sufficient thoroughness, improvement, even complete relief, may be achieved with a large proportion. Today the medical man has more strings to his bow than ever before.

While some individuals will respond to intravenous vaccines, others to colloidal sulphur or gold, certain it is that most will make positive gains under a régime designed to raise resistance. This includes the removal of foci of infection, the adjustment of diet with the elimination of an undue ratio of starches and sugars, and the employment of sunshine, heat, massage, baths, etc.

Recently a new substance, acetyl-beta-methylcholine chloride, has been reported on favorably. It stimulates the sympathetic nervous system and is introduced into the skin capillaries by means of the galvanic current—a process called iontophoresis. There is thus brought about a marked dilatation of the capillaries with local redness and heat. The tiny arteries remain engorged for several hours with a greatly increased flow of blood through these vessels.

The immediate reaction, while slightly disturbing to some persons, is not fraught with much discomfort. The secretion of saliva is profuse, the pulse rate rises, and there is considerable flushing of the face, with perspiration over the entire body. Patients will state that they feel a sensation of grateful warmth which persists from one to three days. Alleviation of pain comes rather quickly. In fact, the feeling of well being may be so pronounced that after even a treatment or two a patient may exclaim, "My trouble has vanished!"

What does the drug do? It produces much the same effect as heat, but the dilatation of the capillaries is maintained for a long period of time. The ailment itself has a tendency to contract all the tiny blood vessels and reduce the volume of the circulating fluid to many parts of the body, including the joints. Forcing this new compound into the vessels about the knee joint, for example, in a twenty minute treatment will keep up for several days a condition similar to a steady application of hot packs. The plan is more lasting than diathermy or infra-red rays.

How is methylcholine utilized? One part of the chemical is dissolved in 1,000 parts of water. Either blotting paper or sheet wadding is saturated with the solution and wrapped around the knee, the ankle, or applied to some painful area. A flexible strip of metal—tin or lead—then covers the pad, to which the positive pole is attached. The negative pole is wired to a moistened pad and placed on the back or over the abdomen. The current varies from 20 to 30 milliamperes and is continued from 20 to 30 minutes. Treatments are given every day until the desired effect is obtained, then every other day, dropping to once a week or once in two weeks. If profuse perspiration is annoying, a hypodermic injection of atropine will abate the symptom.

In a recent article Bredall writes that 80 per cent of his patients were definitly improved. Most of them had tried the conventional methods of management. Other observers relate that relief of pain ensued in their cases in from 80 to 90 per cent.

So far there appears to be no contra-indication to the use of the chemical except that those with heart failure or asthma are not suitable subjects.

LEAFLET EXPLAINS.

R. N. writes: I have been bothered with boils for some time and I have been told that rich blood is the cause. 1. Is this true? 2. What advice can you give on this ailment?

REPLY.

1. No.
2. We have incorporated many suggestions into leaflet form and this may be obtained by sending a stamped, addressed envelope.

WHY PUPILS DILATE.

R. R. writes: What causes the pupils to enlarge at times?

REPLY.

This is a natural phenomenon. The pupils enlarge if the light is dim and become small in sunlight. Sometimes fear or excitement will result in dilation.

PROBATE FOR TITLE.

Chicago, May 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My husband died last September, leaving no will. Fifteen years ago his mother died, leaving this house divided between my husband and his sister. He bought her half from her, leaving just his name on the house.

1. When paying the interest on a mortgage on the house the real estate dealer told me I would have to have a lawyer and have the house go through the Probate court, taking a year in order to have it put in my name. I have started this procedure. I have paid about $30 to the Probate court for incidental expenses.

2. A politician wrote to a judge for me, who said that in the course of seven years the house would naturally go into my name without this expense. I have five children, two under 21. They have already agreed that the house should be in my name and save the expense of lawyer and court. What do you advise?

J. M.

1. Correct. These proceedings will be necessary in order to produce a readily saleable title.

2. Illinois courts have held in absence of an express statute that by implication the seven year period is applicable as a limitation on claims against unprobated estates, but this would leave open possible questions as to heirship. If you will not sell until seven years have gone by, we will agree that you might find a purchaser who will be satisfied to take your title. The phrase "go into my name" is not properly applicable to the facts.

SOLVING A LAW PROBLEM.

Chicago, May 16.—I was much interested in reading the editorial contained in this morning's TRIBUNE entitled "The Bar and Crime." It touches upon what has long been one of my pet peeves, namely, the so-called "criminal lawyer."

This subject presents a problem which is about as difficult of solution as it is important, and every one who knows much about the subject realizes that its importance is very great indeed.

I wish the writer of your editorial might have taken occasion to observe that recently here in Chicago Judge John P. Barnes of the United States District court, being called upon to appoint counsel for a defendant without funds, appointed two of the leading trial lawyers of our bar, former Judge Floyd Thompson and Frederic Burnham, and I wish also he might have referred to what I believe is a material accomplishment in the treatment of this problem here in Cook county by the creation of the office of public defender and the appointment to that office of Mr. Benjamin Bachrach, who has brought to his duties in that office a very conscientious and intelligent service.

CHARLES M. THOMSON.

DEFENDS VERMONT MARBLE.

Chicago, May 19.—In your Wednesday issue appeared an article concerning a bust of Superintendent of Public Schools William Johnson. In it was a remark made by Prof. E. Simone, who had been asked to speak of his work in modeling the bust.

The professor said that the marble, from Vermont quarries, was of inferior quality and that the WPA did a good piece of work with the material furnished. He inferred that had the bust been carved in Italian marble it would have been perfect. It seems to me that perhaps Prof. Simone has been misquoted, for it is hard to believe that one on relief in this country at the expense of our people would condemn a marble quarried in the United States. I want to correct the erroneous impression conveyed by your article. Many varieties of Vermont marble have for years been used for fine sculpture in this country and abroad and will continue to be used by expert artisans of our industry.

WHY NOT A DRIVERS' LICENSE?

Chicago, May 20.—The driver of an automobile ran into a pedestrian who was crossing the street on green lights, dragging him half way across the street, breaking several ribs and bruising and cutting him in various places. The driver would do nothing about paying expenses, so the case went to court and a judgment of $325 was given the injured man against the driver.

The driver of the car filed bankruptcy and now is free "to go out and kill." What a law!

My husband was the injured man, so I know how it feels to have expense and worry and no law to protect us.

The man was making $43 a week and could have paid this bill on instalments. My husband makes very much less than that and we have to pay our bills.

DELIGHTS OF RURAL LIFE.

Chicago, May 20.—Not every one would like farm life as a steady diet, but there is a bright side to it. On Sundays I often go out to see a relative on his 84 acre ranch where I am on good terms with five cats and two big German shepherd dogs. The dogs have a loving disposition and carelessly throw their 85 pounds of weight and awkwardness against me and nearly knock me down. They have the habit of grabbing my hand in a playful manner in their alligator-like jaws, coming down with more gentle pressure than some of the tiny kittens, which the dogs carry around at times by their heads with only a slight protest by poor kittie who finds herself clasped tightly in the iron jaws.

My friend and his wife have a penchant for buying old broken down farms and building them up. The farm they just bought competent judges would say was 99 and 44-100 neglected and run down. But the hundred year old buildings show clearly that at one time there was order and businesslike management here. The farm with its many outbuildings looks as though it had been the playgrounds of thousands of chickens, geese and ducks and likely many porkers. The big corn cribs and silo prove that things were done around here.

As I sat in the old dining room I thought I'd like to know something of the thousands who had passed through these doors and know something of the births, deaths and marriages that had taken place between these walls years before my time. But the static of the modern radio woke me out of my day-dream and brought me back to 1938, and soon a nice lamb stew cooked on a very modern electric range in this hundred year old room and the news of the purchase of a new Ford tractor, a gang plow and manure spreader aroused me to peer around the corner a little bit into the future.

My friend and his wife have a vision of making this a safe, sound and attractive home for their later years, but my private opinion is that before they finish their present plans they'll sell and buy anew, thinking here at last is something worth sticking to. PERCY GRAHAM.

NOT SUCH "SMALL POTATOES."

Chicago, May 19.—So Mayor Frank Hague is "small potatoes." Surely you will recall the campaign you conducted against the C. I. O. and its discredited leaders.

However, when a real American who has what it takes actually shows this un-American clique where to get off, he is at once called "small potatoes."

If the great American who has given Jersey City its medical center, its unsurpassed setup to deal with juvenile delinquency, not to mention the police force that has kept Jersey City rid of crime and racketeers; if this man is "small potatoes," I am a Chinaman.

GAS RATES.

Chicago, May 19.—On March 2 a delegation presented to the city council a statement and petition against the increase of gas rates. The delegation was barred, and only a small committee was allowed to enter the council chamber. Their statement was accepted, and no doubt filed away and forgotten, because nothing has been heard of it since then. We would appreciate your telling us if there is some way in which this could be brought before the city council for a public hearing.

The small wage earner finds himself without gas, due to the high rate now in effect. If the rate were increased, as has been proposed by the gas company, not only would the small wage earner be without gas completely but families that are now including gas in their budget will have to omit it.

If you would bring this issue before the public maybe the people of Chicago would get a square deal on this gas question.

HAS BUT ONE REGRET.

Chicago, May 16.—On behalf of officers and members I wish to thank you for the fine evening we enjoyed in going through THE TRIBUNE plant as well as for seeing the moving pictures. My only regret was that I couldn't be where the movies were taken and spend about two weeks casting for fish in the same waters that carried the logs along. Really, seeing such fine fishing waters and to be able to do nothing about it was a keen disappointment. My friend Bob Becker ought to give this a whirl with a writeup. Tell him I said so.

We also enjoyed the Northerners that evening and it was the desire of the fellows that we let you know just how we felt about it. R. C. EATON, M. D.,

PHARISAIC ARROGANCE.

Chicago, May 16.—Mr. Orr's front page cartoon in Monday's paper was very impressive of "The world without honor." However, it smacks of pharisaic arrogance. America belongs in that company of rascals, carrying a bag as big as any of them, filled with profits from selling war materials to warring nations.

SOUNDS FAIR ENOUGH.

Chicago, May 20.—In reply to "Closed Gates," signed A. W.: Your brother, William Gallacher, a communist member of the British parliament, wants to come to America to preach his gospel. I'll make you a fair proposition: If Russia will permit me to preach my gospel of democracy there I'll try to arrange for your brother's admittance to this country. How about it? LOUIS HERMAN.

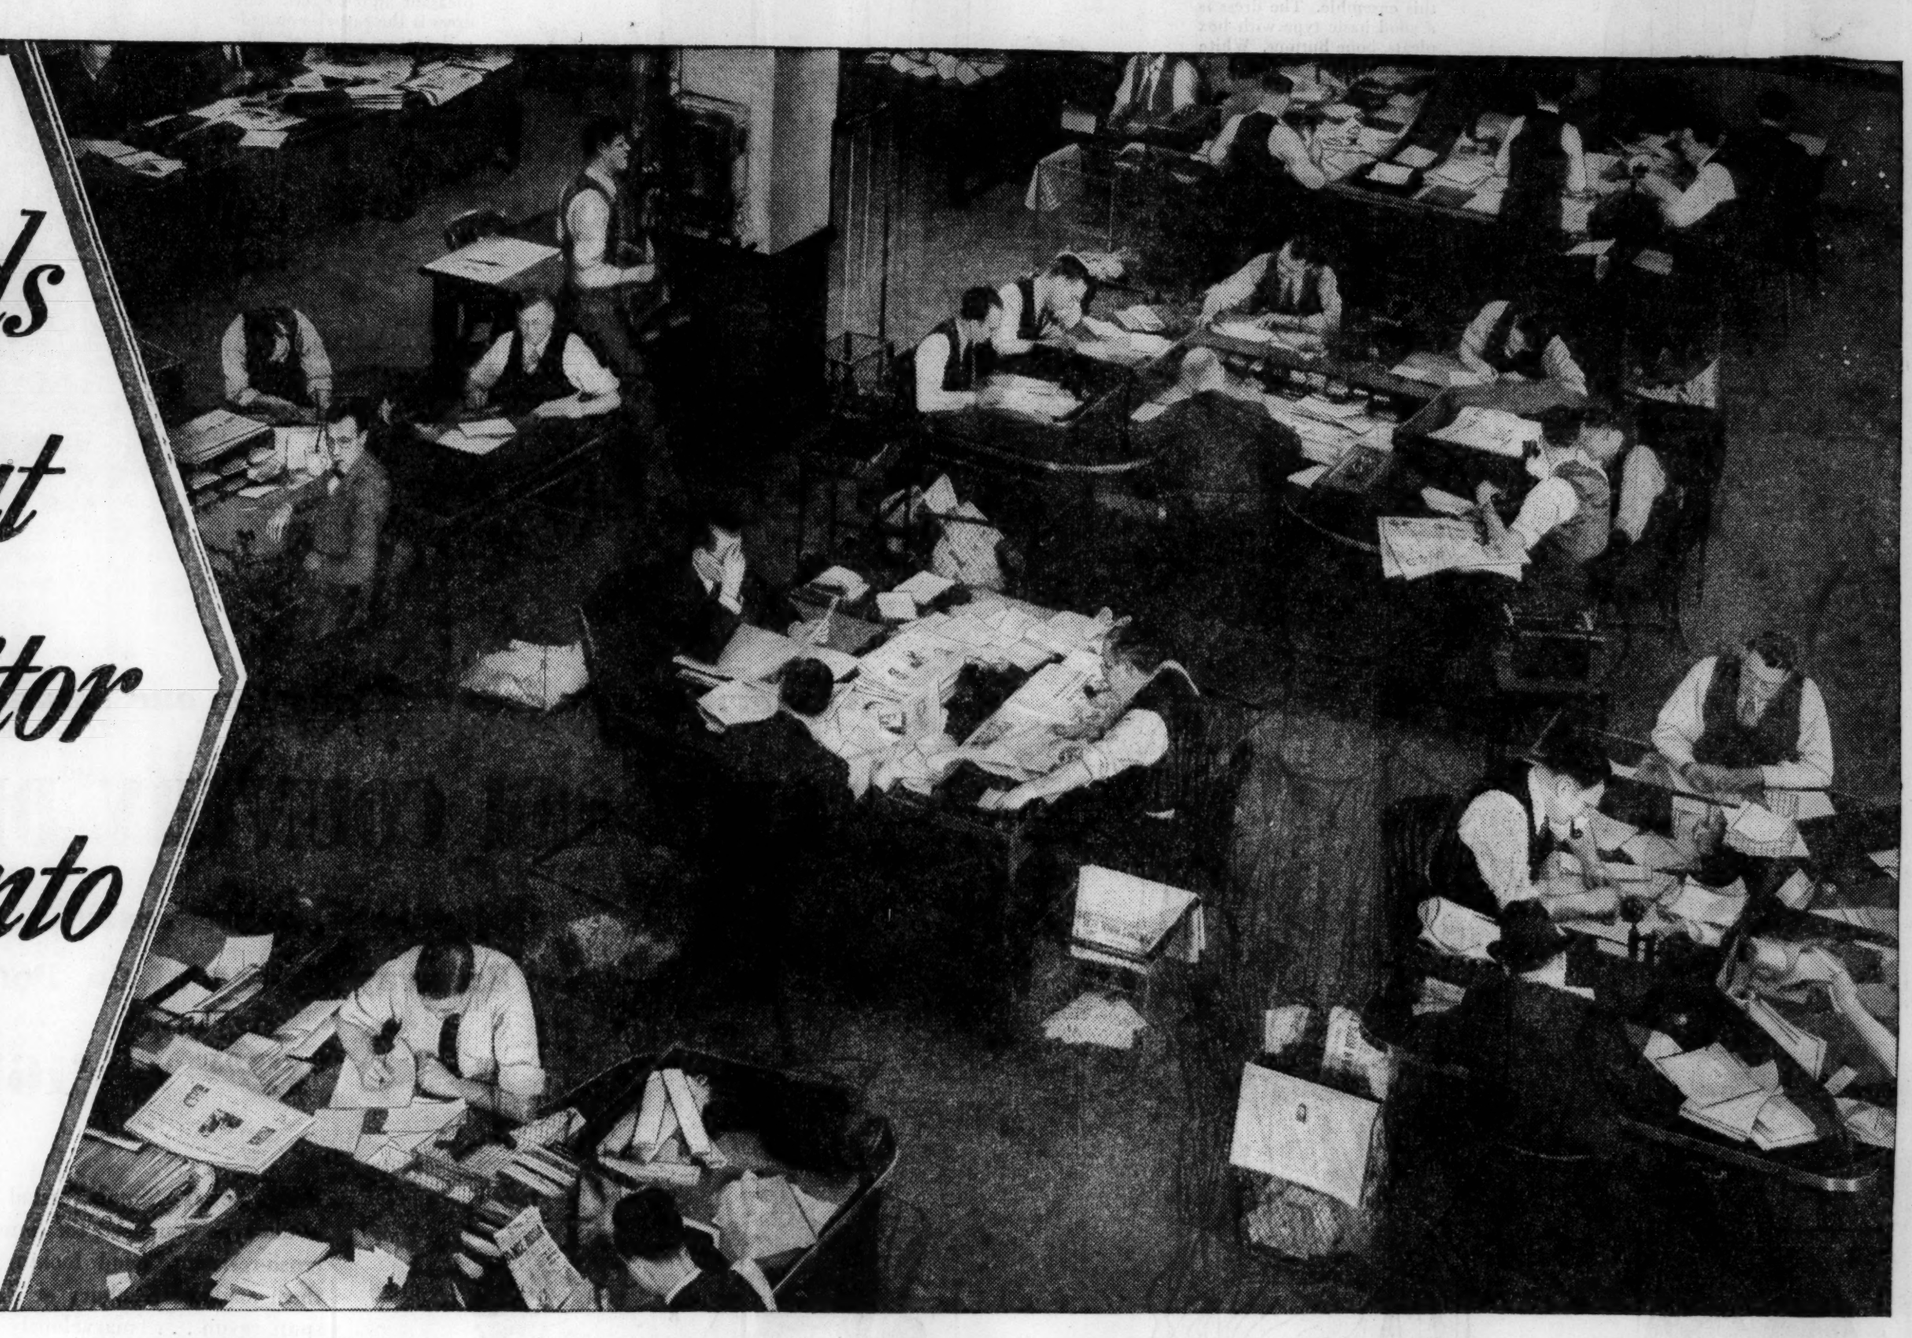
depends on what the editor puts into it!



Because the Tribune has been most successful in selling its own product in the Chicago market, it is the medium best able to help you sell yours

THE NEWSPAPER TO WHICH . . . every day of the year . . . the majority of Chicago families turn is the Tribune. Its accurate news reports, aggressive editorial policies and special features are what they want.

Day after day, they look to the Chicago Tribune for the news and its interpretation. They expect this newspaper to give them ideas about men and events, fashion and business, health and laws and beauty . . . all they hunger to know.

This highly personal relationship is not new. Since before the Civil War the Tribune has grown with Chicago, its oldest newspaper and its youngest. Ninety-one years of steadfast publication of the news and of decisive action in advancing the interests of readers make the Tribune the newspaper which the people of this market follow with greatest interest and confidence.

The Tribune built its circulation, holds its circulation and continues to increase its circulation because it plays a vital and intimate part in the lives and thinking of the people of Chicago. It reaches practically as many families in Chicago and suburbs as any two other newspapers combined. It is the only newspaper with majority coverage of all the families in metropolitan Chicago—seven days a week.

The editorial qualities which have built for the Tribune deepest interest among men and women in all income groups get best returns for advertisers. Chicago retailers recognize this fact by placing in the Tribune 53.6% more advertising than in the second Chicago newspaper. General advertisers place 68.2% more linage in the Tribune than in the second newspaper.

No matter what you sell, you can rely on the Tribune to produce . . . year after year . . . the greatest volume of sales. It is the logical medium around which to build your advertising program for Chicago. Rates per 100,000 circulation are among America's lowest.

Concert Turns Spotlight on 3 Chicago Artists

BY CECIL SMITH.

Three Chicago musicians figured prominently in a stimulating Illinois Symphony orchestra concert in the Great Northern theater yesterday afternoon. Daniel Saidenberg, widely admired for his enterprising leadership of the Saidenberg Symphonietta, occupied the conductor's stand; Michael Wilkomirski, violinist of concert and radio reputation, appeared as soloist; and Leo Sowerby, internationally known composer, sat in the audience and rose to acknowledge the hearty applause aroused by his symphonic poem, "Prairie." One of the biggest audiences in recent weeks attended and gave repeated evidence of keen enjoyment.

Four items, two contemporary and two classical, constituted the program. Arthur Honegger's "Summer Pastoral" and Dr. Sowerby's tone poem preceded Mozart's Fourth violin concerto, in D major, and the Beethoven Fifth symphony. Even though it looked unorthodox on paper, this ordering of the program had the advantage of presenting the modern works to fresh minds and of placing recognized masterpieces in climactic spots before and after the intermission.

Throughout most of the concert Mr. Saidenberg evoked as sensitive and musical a response from the orchestra as his work with his own group has led us to expect. The purity and precision of the concerto accompaniment gave Mr. Wilkomirski as discriminating support as he could have wished, and the Sowerby tone poem—as robust as the Mozart is delicate—sounded out with red blooded conviction. Only the Beethoven symphony, with a few maladjusted tempi and inconclusive effects, gave an impression of incomplete musical assimilation on the conductor's part.

Mr. Wilkomirski's playing, while not genuinly profound in conception, profits from a warm, joyous tone, incisive rhythm, artful phrasing, and the impression that he regards musical communication as something more important than musical display.

For the first time in more than a decade a major Negro singing organization invaded the loop when the Chicago Negro Choral club presented Handel's oratorio "Samson" in Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon. The chorus has been well trained by Ramon B. Girvin, its conductor, and sang with unanimity and tonal freshness. The numerous solos were given to Thelma Wade Brown, Sallie Walker Brown, Helen Penn, Lonnie Jackson, James Walton Benson, and Albert Yarbrough. Resonant accompaniments were provided by Stanley Martin at the organ and Harriet Hammond and Gertrude Smith Jackson at two pianos.

Edna Mae Stryker, soprano, a newcomer to the professional concert field, sang at the Beaux Arts salon in the Medinah club yesterday afternoon. Her promise is more than usually great, and when she has rounded off a few rough edges her vital lyric voice and innate musicality should assure her of a permanent audience. Other participants in a somewhat overloaded program were Clara Maas, a fast playing pianist too enthusiastic to be wholly accurate; the charming girls' glee club of Roycemore school in Evanston, directed by Madi Bacon, and the Stryker vocal trio, of which Edna Mae Stryker is the most distinctive member.

Holy Name Society Hears Bishop Sheil at Its Annual Rally

More than 2,000 delegates from the 311 parish units of the Holy Name society of the Catholic archdiocese yesterday met in annual rally in the parish hall of Our Lady of Sorrows church, Jackson boulevard and Albany avenue. Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, founder and national head of the Catholic Youth organization, outlined C. Y. O. activities now being developed to reduce juvenile delinquency. Jane Anderson of New York, lecturer on international political problems, discussed "The Spanish Question." Other speakers included James H. O'Keeffe, president of the society; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. T. P. Bona, head of the Big Brothers movement, and the Rt. Rev. Daniel Byrnes, director of organization of the society.

4,000 Jewish Pupils Give Festival of First Fruits

An ancient Jewish custom was revived yesterday in Douglas park when 4,000 pupils of 36 Jewish religious schools dramatized the presentation of the ten commandments in a Hag Habikkurim, or festival of first fruits. Ben Aronin prepared the modernized script for the festival. The complicated symbolic formations were directed by Herbert Magida, physical education instructor at Von Steuben High school. In charge of the festival was Leo L. Honor, executive director of the Jewish board of education.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Helen Jessie Hadley seems to be pausing for a last goodnight to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Hadley Jr., before going upstairs. Her mother is a member of the Highland Park-Ravinia Center of Infant Welfare, which is giving a luncheon today in the garden of Mrs. Clarence W. Schaaf's home in Highland Park. Mrs. Fuller Gregson, Mrs. Elias Lyman Jr., Miss Sara Place, and Miss Jeanette Townsend will be among the especial guests at the party.

White Turbans Bring End to Open Air Hats

BY RHEA SEEGER.

There is much sleek distinction to a cool, white hat, especially after weeks of creations that were piled high with botanical mixups. Suavely draped, shirred, and molded turbans are becoming to all headlines; are unusually well made, and achieve a smooth outline without any suspicion of frill, ruffle or fluttering rag tail ends. Worn with all white costumes or with dark sheers, they're perfect summer finds.

It takes experienced and deft fingers to mold such headgear into sufficiently intricate, yet flattering outlines to keep them individual, but that trick has been done. Frosty white dull crêpes, rough textured white cottons, velvety smooth jersey, and even white fish net are used with great imagination and skill. The draping—folds or shirring, of course—makes the hats.

Side elevations are new this summer; the turbans with this clever side roll have the arrogant dash of an Indian potentate's best parade turban. The Russian headdress returns in these turbans, too, only higher and wider than in previous showings. Many of them are made with a band hugging the skull line and the necessary additional height contrived with fan shaped folds in vertical lines to contrast the horizontal folds of the head band.

Summer white turbans are free of flying ends or entangling scarfs that wind around the neck. If you crave extras, a white dotted veil can be added or a green eyeshade of fine net, or, to be more dramatic, try a black, navy or copper colored whiff of mesh or coarse veiling over the hat and flying down the back.

There are plenty of low headlines with curved and expertly designed outlines, and every newly unpacked model is made to cover completely the hair-do. No open air hats this summer!

The Housewife

One of the neatest tricks we've seen in a long time, as well as one of the most inexpensive, is a contrivance that keeps a quart jar of liquid or food either hot or cold. You simply pre-heat or chill an ordinary quart jar, fill it with whatever you wish to take along on the trip, and then slip it inside a silver covered container. This container is so made that it will keep the contents of the glass jar piping hot for eight hours, or cold for the same length of time.

It's ideal for storing ice cubes or for carrying the baby's bottle of milk or for keeping the salad cold on a picnic—for any of several things, in fact. And it is so unbelievably cheap that you can lay in a supply of four or five without denting the budget.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Elegant, lengthy, intelligently presented, but rather too ponderous for popularity is Samuel Goldwyn's latest essay into cinema art.

It is plain to be seen that no money was spared on either cast or accoutrements of "Marco Polo," but the picture, somehow, seems to resolve itself into just a long parade OF fine players AND accoutrements. Well, it's an eye filler no end, if not much of pulse stirrer.

In this story Marco Polo, handsome, daring Don Juan-ish son of a wealthy Venetian merchant, is sent to Peking to establish trade relations with the Croesus rich emperor, Kublai Khan. . . . Here he meets the khan's beauteous daughter, Princess Kukachin—who has never been kissed. Kukachin has been betrothed from her cradle days to the ruler of Persia.

Marco diligently instructs the fair one in the art of osculation, losing his heart to her the while and incurring the snakelike hatred of the khan's villainous prime minister. Ahmed plots to steal Kublai's throne and, himself, wed Kukachin. . . .

Marco, sent away by the khan, at Ahmed's suggestion, to spy in the camps of an enemy, one Kaidu, becomes instrumental in saving the kingdom for Kublai, uniting two great leaders in friendship and sending Ahmed into the hereafter. . . . And if you think the king of Persia gets the khan's daughter—why, you'd better think again.

Mr. Cooper portrays Marco with ease and considerable humor, and his fancy raiment doth tremendously become him. Sigrid Gurie, the "Norwegian find" who hails from Brooklyn, debuts rather interestingly, though I don't find her work particularly outstanding. She's pretty, not unlike Binnie Barnes, who appears pleasingly as the amorous and shrewish wife of Kaidu.

George Barbier is a nice old khannie and Basil Rathbone gives one of his characteristically creepy performances as Ahmed. Other parts are in good hands.

The last reel of the movie carries a couple of thrilling episodes, but, all told, I'm afraid "The Adventures of Marco Polo" will not prove "box office."

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

The Week's Wash

Hollywood, Cal., May 22.—The Charlie Corrells expect Sir Stork. He's the Andy of Amos 'n' Andy. . . . When Pete Smith asked Bess Ehrhardt, Roy Shipstad, Everett Mac Gowan, and the rest of the ice skaters appearing here to make a short, they asked for $125,000. Sonja Henie evidently smartened up all of the skaters. Two years ago in Chicago they asked me to make a Fox Movietone of them, free. . . . Bert Frohman is singing his love songs to Mary Dees, who completed the Jean Harlow rôle in "Saratoga." . . . The wags are calling "Three Comrades," previewed Friday, "My Man Gottfried." . . . If you don't think theater business is off, consider the fact that Jackie Coogan will hit only $10,500 on his week at San Francisco in a house that normally does $15,000. Jackie and the Bob Hopes will get a flat $7,000 and a split over $35,000 in their week at Loew's State. . . . That Hollywood Reporter crack is amusing—that times are so tough the girls are asking the boys up to see THEIR etchings!

Mary Dees.

Dynamo is the house organ of 20th Century-Fox studios and quite naturally every 20th Century picture commented upon is rated terrific. A recent issue has the town in stitches, however, because in a group photo, in which Paul Muni is on the extreme left, and Zanuck is on the extreme right, instead of listing the persons from left to right, Dynamo captions it this way: "From right to left, Darryl Zanuck," etc.

Everett Crosby and Marjorie Dean are a bit of an item. . . . Richard Greene takes out Sonja Henie one night, Arleen Whelan the next. . . . Aside to Rupert Hughes: Glad you enjoyed it, sir. . . . Mack Millar blames another agent for spreading the report that he and Le Roy Prinz traded punches, which ain't so. . . . The pint of blood which Max Baer gave to his baby son won him more friends than anything he's ever done. . . . When Broderick Crawford arrives, Rita Johnson will have to decide between him and Johnny Maschio. . . . The entire Universal studio setup will be completed when Nate Blumberg trains in today. Whether or not the Jack Moss deal has iced will be known then. . . . Ethel Merman and Bob Taplinger are making it a habit.

Was it Walter Catlett who was mowed down by Mary MacGuire's dad at the Masquers? . . . Hollywood pals are fretting about the Frank Shields. . . . The Charlie Salernos expect Sir Stork. Charlie is the M.-G.-M. cameraman. Mrs. Salerno was Arlene Aber. . . . Stepin Fetchit wires from Dayton, O., that the baby will have arrived by the time this is printed. . . . The Allan Jones build-up, suggested here, is on in earnest at M.-G.-M. . . . Shirley Ross can't decide between Ken Murray and Ken Dolan. . . . Katharine Hepburn is leaving for New York, probably in Howard Hughes' plane. . . . The Nelson Eddy-Mrs. Sydney Franklin attachment continues. . . . Writers of the Judge Hardy series are going overboard on the mother rôle. She's getting too many weepy lines, and the distinguishing characteristics of mothers are that they have a great habit of keeping their chins up.

Bob Grant's band donned sailor suits to kid Darryl Zanuck at his farewell party. . . . This column's suggestion for the "Golden Boy" lead: Don Ameche or Alan Curtis. Columbia's Harry Cohn, however, wants to take an unknown and build up a star, rather than build up a performer for another studio. . . . Gloria Blondell and Dave Shelley at the Swing club. . . . Hollywood theater advertised "Who Killed Gail Patrick?" for two editions before her husband, Bob Cobb, called up. . . . The picture was "Who Killed Gail Preston?". . . . Donald Novis' ex is stepping with Ray Hendricks. . . . Texas' Gov. Jim Allred delighted the celebs out here with his impersonations of other governors he has met. Very hilarious. . . . Mary Brian and Stephen Vincent an item. . . . Simone Simon has swiped Greg Bautzer from Lana Turner.

Now it's Merle Oberon and Jimmy Stewart. . . . Remember 'way back when actresses used to get kleig eyes? . . . I like the title of Walter C. Kelly's forthcoming memoirs: "Of Me I Sing." . . . Mary Carlisle and Don Terry are cooing. . . . Ditto Owen Crump and Peggy Moran . . . Bruce Lester and Jan Holm are holding hands. . . . Maxie Rosenbloom and Tanya Buford are clinching. . . . Joe Pasternak has switched to Helen Mack . . . Teddy Hayes is due here on a world's fair assignment. . . . In "Her Jungle Love," which is my favorite grouch, Dorothy Lamour wears nicely polished finger nails. She's been isolated on the island for twenty years. . . . Rudy Vallee will get a new contract from Warners'.

The late Jean Harlow once was considered all washed up in pictures, and went on a vaudeville tour of the east with N. T. G. She cracked all records and was given a new lease on film life. Mae West did the same thing just recently. Gene Raymond is busting records in vaudeville and will get a fatter contract and better parts when he returns. Allan Jones, often touted in this space, was ignored by his studio until he went east and was mobbed by crowds. My advice to every film player is to leave here once or twice a year and visit cities such as Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Washington, Detroit, and New York. . . . Such a trip replenishes a player's ego and offers a convincing demonstration of popularity to his studios. Here in Hollywood the danger is that we all are too close to the forest to see the trees.

SYNOPSIS.

Elizabeth Sandal is shocked to find her two children resent their father's will that unexpectedly left a fortune to her and did not mention them. Dorothea wants to have her own London flat. Oliver hopes to marry into wealth. Elizabeth goes off to Switzerland for a change and rest and meets Andrew Leicester, who was a groom at her wedding. Andrew, a widower, is returning after years of absence in China to meet his children. William, his son, lives with a bachelor relative. His daughter, Shirley, is with his wife's people. Shirley has become involved in a scandal with an aviator who was engaged to another girl. Her mother's family, so they have written Andrew, can do nothing with her. Andrew hopes to have it out with Shirley before becoming involved with his in-laws. Shirley believes the older generation are all against her and treats him coolly. Andrew turns to Elizabeth for sympathy. She tries to make friends with the boy and girl. Shirley's Aunt Jay writes Andrew hinting that the girl is seeing the aviator secretly. Dorothea hears from a friend about a stranger's attentions to her mother. Oliver decides to pay his mother a surprise visit.

INSTALMENT XIX.

MISUNDERSTANDINGS.

William made for the vestibule and the open doorway, looking right and left for his sister. Five minutes later from his bedroom window Andrew saw them meet, the boy flourishing his riches in triumph, and the girl listening to what he had to say with a smile.

"If we are able to get to the top you'll see the Jungfrau and Mont Blanc and the Barnese Oberland," exclaimed Shirley as they made for the tram to Montreux.

"I know, what a piece of luck! . . . I say, Shirley, I believe the old boy was quite in a funk about that crash of yours. He was asking me what sort of fellow the pilot was."

She gave him a quick glance.

William gave her the interview briefly, even to the mention of the holidays.

"I never could see the sense of hauling you away from Uplands myself," he said.

[Talking to William about Tony! If he wanted information why couldn't he come to her for it? A mean and cowardly trick.]

The flight had been the thrill of a lifetime, even to the last shout from Tony telling her to jump and she found herself rolling in the muddy field with the Tea-Tray's nose in the ground and heels in the air.

"O, Tony, don't say we've broken her."

And Tony shouting with laughter because she herself wasn't broken, feeling her all over and hugging her in his relief.

"Bad visibility, mistook the dam' field, saw a bally stump," said Tony. "Whew! That was a nasty one. I never thought you'd do it."

"Me? What?"

"Jump, of course. . . . Never mind the Tea-Tray. She'll recover. Hullo, look at the multitude."

People had come running in great excitement and she wiped the mud from her clothes as best she could and shook her hat free of it; and some one asked her name and she gave it, thinking it must be for damage or trespass.

She hadn't thought of the newspapers.

PLANE CRASH IN NORFOLK.

A private airplane piloted by Mr. Anthony Voisin crashed in a field near Olister, in Norfolk, during yesterday's storm. Mr. Voisin and his lady passenger, Miss Shirley Leicester, were unhurt.

The tram clattered. William talked and she smiled at him. It didn't matter. She was glad she had gone up and been able to tell him she hadn't, even for a second, been in the least afraid.

Andrew watched them out of sight. He and Elizabeth had planned to cross to the southern side of the lake and spend the day in Savoy. He wondered whether her view of Jay's letter might not be enlightening.

They met at the quay and as they went on board she told him she had seen the two young people leaving the tram and been greeted almost with enthusiasm. They had looked as though they owned the world.

"Price 50 francs," he said dryly. "They have been going hungry rather than tell me their funds had nearly gone, if you ever heard of such folly."

He sounded out of spirits, she thought, and as he found her a comfortable seat and sat down beside her, she said doubtfully:

"Are you sure you wouldn't break down these barriers, which are only due to strangeness, if I melted out of the picture?"

"What! Desert me at your peril—or perhaps at mine. I should break something besides barriers," retorted Andrew.

Andrew drew the letter out of his pocket and handed it to her.

"Am I to read this?" she asked, looked at him searchingly for a moment, and then took horn rimmed glasses from her bag and put them on in a determined manner.

When she had read the letter through to the end she sat for a moment looking at it, then folded it and gave it back.

"I believe she is trying to marry you," she said.

"O, is she. We'll see about that."

"And not too cleverly, either," proceeded Elizabeth. "She may not even know it herself, but what curious people! From my knowledge of the younger generation her very phraseology would drive them to explosion. That poor child must have had a ghastly time. All these suspicions are, of course, beneath contempt."

"The suspicions are without foundation certainly," agreed Andrew, and gave her his own interpretation of the talk with William at breakfast. "The boy is fond of her but she can have little affection for him if she wouldn't move from her infernal aunt and see him occasionally. Clinging vine, William called her in her attitude to Miss Mortimer."

"It doesn't fit," expostulated Elizabeth. "What a pity you ever took her away from your cousin, wasn't it—and the bachelor household?"

"You think it was a mistake? You didn't say so before," said Andrew. "I am so unlettered in the matter of girls and what is considered proper for them."

"Of course, and everybody's prey because you were at a distance and anxious to do your best," she said. "What was Shirley's feelings about it?"

"She wrote and begged to be allowed to return," he admitted, "and, of course, I told her it couldn't be done and she must do as she was told. She was not old enough to decide a matter of that kind . . . or words to that effect., You look dubious. Why?"

"She may have known better than you. At nearly 15 a girl is not a child, particularly one who has been without parents for many years, and with a brother so much younger. They had had no one but each other and you took her away, not for any fault of hers. What may she not have thought and felt about it? It's no good telling me she isn't devoted to William. I'll swear she is. . . . I wish I had an opportunity to get to know her a little better, but I am the wrong age I daresay. . . ."

"I wish to God you had," said Andrew fervently, "though it is expecting a good deal of you."

She ignored this, did not even hear it, perhaps.

"Suppose she had met this young man in London or even over here, that is not a crime. Frankly, I should tear up the letter and forget what they have said about her. You have to win her confidence, I think, and conquer her distrust. . . . Don't be nagged by these women into thinking her anything at all. . . . Find out for yourself."

He tore the letter forthwith and dropped it into the lake, returning to her with a smile.

"It shall be done," he said. "Somehow I felt sure you would illumine the situation. Has your daughter taught you to be so wise?"

"O, do cross your fingers," she cried. "My wisdom may be nothing at all but a weak inability to believe in villainy, though I can believe in fools."

"That weak inability is a great quality, my dear Elizabeth."

"No, no, I used the wrong word. Of course, she is no villain. That is absurd. But I can't believe in a badness in her that I can neither see nor feel."

"That's a comfort at least," declared Andrew.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Sad Awakening

Start Baby on Good Habits; He Keeps Them

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

The baby's a creature of habit. Make good use of the early months of his life in getting him to form habits for his health and happiness [and so for his mother's, too] and the chances are they will carry over into his little childhood and on along through his growing years.

Food and sleep, sleep and food—these are the two things on which the baby's physical well-being depend. Get a steady rhythm of these established, and how he will thrive!

Regularity is the keynote. If you stick to it his body falls in with the plan. His sleep comes at the right time, his food when he is just hungry enough—and two basic habits are formed. And when, a little later, you have coupled these routines with times of growing activity, and with the play, cuddling, and attention a loving, intelligent mother instinctively gives her baby, there's no reason why he shouldn't grow like a flower.

This good start has, I believe, more far reaching effects on the baby than we realize—not only physically, but psychologically. And that applies to his family, too; and the whole business moves, not in a vicious circle, but in a bright and shining one.

The baby's natural food is still, despite all man's inventions and discoveries in nutrition, his best food. Don't let any one fool you about that. The doctors are doing everything they can to swing the pendulum back to nature's way, to convince mothers of this fact. The breast fed baby has the best chances of actually living through his first year, of resisting disease, of building up his unseen as well as his seen needs.

Besides the physical side, there is another one to this matter of breast feeding: The sense of lovingness, of intimacy, of security that comes to the nursing baby when he first leaves the warm, dark dependency of life within his mother's body is something the baby deeply needs. It is, in fact, his birthright. And some psychologists believe that the absence, not only of this natural food, but of the whole experience of the breast feeding as I've described it, accounts for a child's later insecurity—even on into maturity. But that we do not need to follow through, or accept. The other aspects of the sub ject are quite convincing enough.

Two leaflets: "Breast Feeding and Weaning" have been prepared for our readers. Please note that each one requires a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Observe Golden Wedding.

Bloomington, Ill., May 22.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Whittington of Bloomington celebrated their golden wedding anniversary today with open house in the afternoon and evening.

Does Your Breath Broadcast—"I WEAR FALSE TEETH"?

Play Safe—Be Sure—Use Polident

Most people who wear plates or bridges suffer from a special kind of bad breath. Dentists call it—"denture breath."

You won't know if you have it—but it can spoil your happiness. Friends will shudder—people avoid you! And the worst of it is that ordinary brushing cannot prevent it. Neither will mouth washes. For the odor comes from a mucin-scum that collects on plates and bridges. This scum soaks up germs and decay bacteria and causes a vile odor that you cannot detect.

One thing can stop "denture breath"—and that's Polident! This new brushless cleaner has won the approval of thousands of dentists. Users say it's a blessing.

Polident not only purifies false teeth—but also removes all stain, tarnish and deposits. Makes breath sweeter—plates look better and feel better. Costs only 30¢ at any drug store and lasts for many weeks. Money back if not delighted.

Cleans, Purifies Like Magic

Put plate or bridge in ½ glass of water. Add a little Polident powder. Leave in 10 to 15 minutes—rinse—and it's sweet and purified—ready to use!

THE ONE CARD KEYSTONE.

[Copyright: 1938: By Ely Culbertson.]

The known location of one card often is the keystone on which declarer's entire plan of play should be based. As in today's hand, for example:

South, dealer.
North-South, vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 hearts	2 spades	3 hearts	3 spades
4 no trump	Pass	5 diam's	Pass
5 spades	Pass	6 hearts	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the spade king. Declarer saw that his contract was absolutely safe unless he were to run into a bad break of clubs, in which case there might be a club and a diamond loser. Winning with the spade ace, he drew three rounds of trumps and then hopefully cashed the ace and king of clubs. When, to his disgust, East showed out on the second round, it was revealed that West had the club suit stopped. Declarer pondered and squirmed trying to find a means of disposing of his club loser. Finally he concluded that the only chance was to play West for the king and queen of diamonds. If he held them, successive leads toward the ace-jack would establish a diamond trick upon which to discard the club three. With that hope declarer led a diamond and, when West played low, put in the jack. East dashed declarer's hopes by winning with the queen and returning a spade. Declarer had to ruff, and ended up ingloriously by conceding West the last trick in clubs.

Had there been no other play for the contract, declarer's dependence on a remarkable diamond break would have been logical but, as a matter of fact, there was a plan available that was bound to succeed. West's opening lead of the spade king had marked him with the queen also. He had been discovered to hold four clubs to the jack. All declarer had to do then was run off every heart until he was reduced to his original two diamonds and Q-3 of clubs. West, at this point, would have to hold the J-9 of clubs and the queen of spades, hence could keep only one other card. On a diamond lead to the ace West would have to discard that fourth card, whatever it was, and reduce himself to the spade queen and J-9 of clubs. Thereupon the lead of the spade jack would throw him on lead and force a club return from the J-7 to the combined N-S tenace.

Thus, the location of the spade queen was all that declarer needed to know in order to insure his contract.

When Sunday's meat reappears for a Monday or Tuesday meal it's more welcome and less recognizable as a leftover if a sauce comes with it.

These particular sauces are good with freshly cooked meat, but they are especially well suited to leftovers, for the latter more than the former need a flavor accent.

All of these except the sauces for lamb are excellent spreads for meat when it is served in sandwiches.

Horseradish Mustard Sauce for Cold Meats.

1 teaspoon prepared mustard
3 tablespoons cream
Few grains pepper; salt if needed

Combine all ingredients and beat together thoroughly. If this sauce is used in sandwiches spread it thinly over the meat and spread one slice of sandwich bread with mayonnaise.

Creole Sauce for Leftover Beef.

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons minced onion
¼ cup minced green pepper
¼ cup chopped mushrooms
1½ tablespoons flour
2 cups tomato juice or sieved tomatoes
Salt, pepper

Cook onion and green pepper in butter for five minutes. Add mushrooms and cook two minutes longer. Stir in flour and add tomato juice and seasonings to taste. Cook until somewhat thickened. Heat meat in the sauce or pour the sauce over sliced meat.

Orange Mint Sauce for Lamb.

¼ cup orange juice
¼ cup lemon juice
3 tablespoons sugar

Combine and let stand in a warm place for half an hour. Serve with fresh cooked or left over sliced leg of lamb.

Caper Sauce for Lamb or Mutton.

2 tablespoons fat or butter
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup meat stock or bouillon
2 tablespoons capers

Melt fat, add flour and seasonings, and blend well. Add stock and bring to the boiling point. Stir and cook until thickened. Add capers. Serve hot with lamb or mutton. A tablespoon of chopped mint leaves may be added if desired.

Hot Chutney Sauce for Ham.

¼ cup water
½ cup sugar

Chili Hollandaise Sauce for Beefsteak.

½ cup butter
2 egg yolks
1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
Sprinkling of cayenne pepper
2 tablespoons chili sauce
½ teaspoon chopped parsley

Melt butter over hot water. Beat egg yolks until light with vinegar and add butter gradually, beating constantly. Add seasonings and stir over hot water until thickened. Serve at once on hot beefsteak.

"Cool as Cucumber" Frock

WOMAN'S DRESS.

A crush-resistant, cool as a cucumber cotton sheer fashioned the original of this simple summer dress which takes years off your calendar age and pounds off your silhouette. It is styled to slenderize and certainly succeeds. The V neckline is a standard for overweight figures, and it may be left plain or be adorned with a soft collar that ends in a soft bow. If the plain neckline is preferred a ruffled jabot may be used below it for softening the bodice line. Below the shoulder yoke is plentiful shirring for grace. Skilful paneling achieves a slim, long line for the frock, and a self fabric tailored belt accents the waistline without exaggerating its size. The sleeves may reach to the elbow or be made in bracelet length. In either case they are full, because tight sleeves invariably make a heavy arm appear stouter.

This is a simple dress to make and is at its best in sheers, either silk or cotton, although certain of the other soft fabrics make up equally well. Both plain shades and prints are fashionable and practical.

Style No. 2986 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material, with ½ yard of 35 inch contrasting for the jabot.

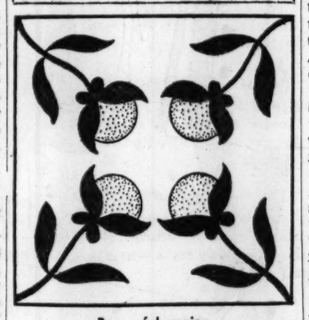
Floral Quilt Is Lovely in Green and Soft Magenta



Rose of Lemoine.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

In discussions the applique block, "Rose of Lemoine," frequently is confused with the old French applique pattern "Rose of Le Moyne," and there is similarity. The block illustrated today is not as old nor as well known as the other, but its beauty is undeniable. Deep magenta and soft green form the color combination the average quilt maker selects for this dainty floral design. Finished, the applique block measures 11½ inches, and forty-two squares are set together with 3 inch bands of white material between the blocks.

Time Building Stronger Race with Good Diet

When you observe the advance in both health and beauty among our current younger generation over the younger generation of their grandparents' day, you may well look forward to the beauty, derived from the right diet, exercise and outdoor life, as being the possession of every young woman tomorrow. Each generation becomes better and better—better developed, better proportioned, stronger; better hair, skin and, by all means, better teeth.

In connection with the milk allotment children enjoy today and the effect on their teeth, we read with interest recently of studies made of two African tribes that live near each other. The idea of the study was to determine how diet influences racial vigor and growth.

Two tribes were studied—the Masai and the Kikuyu. Children showed the most striking contrast. The Masai tribe's diet includes milk and meat—rich in protein, fat, and calcium. The Kikuyu tribe are vegetarians and live mostly on cereals, roots and legumes. The former are taller and weigh more than the latter. The children of the Masai tribe rate much higher in physical development than those of the Kikuyu tribe. Dental defects, according to the National Dairy council, which made the test, were found around five times higher among the children of the Kikuyu tribe.

Dr. Mary Swartz Rose, Columbia university authority, recently emphasized the great importance attached to nutrition for children today.

"Good nutrition cannot be trusted to instinct," said Dr. Rose. "The persistent use of a diet rich in all the factors known to influence health and growth has resulted in better development, a longer period of active adult life, and a much delayed old age, with greater resistance of the body to those infections which make subtle inroads on health.

"If we only can apply what we know to the lives of our school children we shall have a new generation taller and stronger than their parents."

Dr. Rose makes an appeal to the schools to teach the principles of health and growth and physical development through diet in the primary grades, instilling into the young group knowledge of the need of a regular and liberal supply of milk.

"In teaching the child control over his environment as regards food, milk has the advantage of needing no cooking, as well as being a good investment," said Dr. Rose. "Children should be led gradually, through carefully directed experiences, to see that the rule, a glass of milk for every meal, is not broken without danger of lessened fitness."

How housewives may avoid watermarked hands is one of the beauty problems Antoinette Donnelly discusses in her booklet, "Handmade Hand Beauty." On sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 5 cents. Postpaid, 7 cents.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

At the risk of boring you we take up one of our favorite themes again: If you love perfumes, give the subject of atomizers the attention it deserves.

The only truly artistic way to use perfume is to spray it on. Generous dabs with the finger or the stopper of the bottle are wasteful; what's more, the lovely scent is not delicately spread about as it should be. It's ever so much better to spray the scent. You won't get too much in one place; you'll scent a larger area subtly.

Atomizers are a saving, too. The truly fine perfumes aren't inexpensive. If you're the average woman you can't afford to be wasteful of them. The atomizer lessens the chance of evaporation and helps you to make a little bit of perfume go a long way.

They're not expensive. There are novelty atomizers that cost no more than a couple of quarters. For very little more you can get one with a tricky lock that is evaporation proof. You can get big ones or little ones, handsome or plain ones. The newest cologne atomizers are particularly nice—and you've never quite enjoyed cologne to the full until you've sprayed it on. The traveling atomizers are among the best of gifts. They have a good lock that prevents evaporation and the perfume can't possibly spill.

At least one company that makes fine atomizers will clean them for you if you send them to the factory. They come back as good as new. It's not a good idea to try to clean them yourself if they have become stained. We know, because not long ago we tried it and made an awful mess of two of our favorites.

If you value your perfumes and want to be careful of them buy good atomizers and give them good care.

'Little Woman' Deserves Share of Praise, Men

BY DORIS BLAKE.

There are too many husbands in this world who are unaware of what even an occasional word of praise and encouragement might mean to the little woman. Their hearts are in the right place. They are good and virtuous men and respected in the community. They do their duty by their wives and families, but they do suffer painfully from a disease known as tongue-tied-itis. Men who before marriage could muster up an amazing amount of oratory to win the girl suddenly develop a peculiar tongue affliction.

What is the matter with your reasoning, men? Does any one welcome more than you the word of approval, praise, encouragement your boss hands out to you?

Your wife is on a job into which she, too, could put a lot more heart if she did not just have to guess whether she is doing it satisfactorily in your eyes or not. The average woman would respond with a better dinner the next time, after you told her tonight's couldn't be beaten by the best chef on earth. She would like to hear it in words, not in appetite or lip-smacking. It's a monotonous job she has, you must remember.

It is not about food only that a word released from your lips would be welcome. She sews, perhaps, and she wants to show you proudly what she has done to convert last year's little number into the latest pattern, and she may have done it well, too.

Then the economy with which she manages a household these trying days is worthy of more than faint praise. Believe us, if a man had to practice the rigid economies in getting up meals, shopping for them, trying to wangle the money out of the household allowance for shoes for junior, or a couple of juniors, he'd go plum crazy. And if his wife wouldn't tell him he was a marvel he'd go out looking for a blonde to appreciate him. Isn't it the truth, brothers?

LYONS STOPS SENATORS FOR 200TH VICTORY

Hayes Doubles with Bases Full.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

That 200th American league victory will evade Ted Lyons no longer. The Baylor bachelor yesterday presided at a 9 to 2 blistering of the Washington Senators and rammed old No. 200 in the record books alongside his No. 2 of the 1938 season, his sixteenth campaign as a member of the White Sox.

Ted had his anxious moments before his success became a breeze in the sixth inning. He didn't have all his stuff at the outset, but was able in a half dozen innings to hold the Senators to one run on three doubles and four singles. In the first four innings the Sox were hitless against Wes Ferrell, and there was no power involved in a couple of singles which did no damage in the Sox fifth.

This Was the Payoff.

But the home sixth—there WAS an inning. The Sox tied the score on a walk to Mike Kreevich, Hank Steinbacher's single, the first solid hit off Ferrell, and Gee Walker's long fly. Two more passes loaded the bases, whereupon Jackie Hayes cleared those bases with a double to left center. Jackie got home on Luke Sewell's single. That made five runs, more than enough for Old Ted, who had steadied after the fifth, steadied to the extent that an infield single by Buddy Lewis in the seventh and a leadoff homer by Jonathan Stone in the eighth were the full extent of the Senators' attack in the last four innings.

Harry Kelley tried to pitch the last two innings for the Senators. The Sox were pleased to bruise him a bit in aid of sick hitting averages. But the four runs made in the last two innings obviously were of slight consequence.

Now for No. 220.

Lyons, now that he has 200 in the satchel, probably will go right on and make it 220. Twice No. 200 had slipped away from him, once when he was removed in St. Louis, while ahead and once in Washington, when the Sox went ahead in extra innings. In this instance Ted went out for a pinch batter in what should have stood up as a victory. The same reliever who became hysterical in St. Louis also got the jitters in Washington, enabling the Senators to score twice in the tenth.

The game was not exactly what Zeke Bonura had planned for his first return trip to Chicago since he was traded from the Sox after a holdout stand this spring. Lyons fanned Zeke with two runners on base in the first inning and made him very docile in three later trips to the plate.

Senators Waste Hits.

Five hits, two of them doubles, an error by Walker and a passed ball by Sewell weren't enough to produce a run for the Senators in the first three innings. In the first inning, Lewis and Simmons singled with one down, but Stone fouled to Sewell and Bonura fanned after a three and two count. Travis led off the second with a double. Steinbacher caught the ball, but had to hold it against the right field wall to retain it. When the umpires indicated Steinbacher had not made a fair catch, Travis broke for third, but was out when he overslid the base, Steinbacher to Hayes to Owen.

Almada fouled to Owen, but Rick Ferrell singled to left and reached second when the ball went through Walker to the wall. Rick Ferrell reached third on a passed ball, but Wes Ferrell, after running the count to three and two, popped to Hayes. In the third, Lewis doubled with one

UMPIRES FORFEIT COAST GAME AS 8,000 FANS RIOT

Hollywood, Cal., May 22.—[Special.]—Enraged by an umpire's decision, 8,000 irate fans showered the playing field with beer cans and other handy weapons as police escorted Umpires Cicero Gault Falls and Henry Fanning from the field today. The riot took place during the second half of the Pacific Coast league Sacramento-Hollywood double-header and the umpires forfeited the game to Sacramento.

The trouble broke out in the third inning with Sacramento leading, 1 to 0, and with runners on first and third. Wayne Osborne, pitching for Hollywood, blazed the ball over the plate for what he thought was a strike. When Umpire Falls ruled it a ball Osborne threw his glove into the air. Falls ordered Osborne out of the game. Manager Red Killifer of the Hollywood team raced from the dugout to protest, and after several minutes of dickering Falls announced that the game was forfeited.

HOUSEHOLDER IS NEW SPEEDWAY RECORD HOLDER

Indianapolis, Ind., May 22.—(AP)—Ronnie Householder, who got his start in automobile racing as the driver of a midget car, roared around the Indianapolis motor speedway today at 125.769 miles an hour for a 25 mile qualifying run to smash the track record set by Floyd Roberts of Van Nuys, Cal., less than twenty-four hours before.

Householder, a neighbor of Roberts, drove a six cylinder, rear drive car owned by Joel Thorne, Tucson [Ariz.] millionaire.

Roberts' track record, set yesterday, was 125.681 miles an hour as finally figured today. It was announced yesterday as 125.506 miles an hour.

Four Others Qualify.

Householder was one of five drivers to qualify today before a crowd estimated by speedway officials at 40,000. This brought the number of certain starters for the Memorial day 500 mile race up to fourteen, leaving nineteen places still open in the starting lineup.

Despite Householder's record breaking run it was Kelly Petillo, Los Angeles Italian, who again drew most of the cheers from the crowd.

Petillo, making his second qualifying attempt, went only four laps before coming in because the car wasn't fast enough to suit him, but one of those laps was at 130.246 miles an hour, barely under the one lap speedway record of 130.492 miles an hour held by Jimmy Snyder of Chicago.

Petillo has only one more chance to qualify. Yesterday he ran nine laps at 126.361 miles an hour before a tire gave way.

Meyer Does 120.525.

Frank Brisko of Chicago, Thorne, Herb Ardinger of Pittsburgh, and Louis Meyer of Huntington Park, Cal., only three time winner of the race, were the other qualifiers today.

Meyer, driving a new Bowes Sealfast Special, which he built himself, averaged 120.525 miles an hour. Brisko went 121.921 miles an hour.

LANDIS EXPLAINS WHY CARDS MUST KEEP 2 HURLERS

Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, said yesterday he had disapproved of the St. Louis Cardinals' transfer of Pitchers Roy Henshaw and Si Johnson to the minors because the two "hadn't had enough opportunity this year to show whether they had major league ability."

Landis would make no further comment.

Henshaw and Johnson appealed to Landis after the Cardinals had released them to Rochester of the International league. The commissioner questioned Manager Frankie Frisch last week and Saturday ordered the Cardinals to retain the two hurlers.

SECRETARY, TWO PREPS WIN GOLF SCHOOL AWARDS

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Aileen Logan, Virginia Holtz, Bill Devlin and Carlton Rune were adjudged the best swingers in the graduating exercises of the sixth annual free golf school conducted by THE TRIBUNE at the Diversey course in Lincoln park yesterday. Nearly 1,000 friends and relatives of the thirty-two finalists witnessed the commencement ceremonies.

The winning quartet was chosen by a jury of members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association, all of whom have served as instructors in golf's No. 1 school since it was founded in 1933. The Misses Logan and Holtz, and Devlin and young Rune were rated the brightest students in a course during which an aggregate of more than 63,000 lessons in the fundamentals of golf were given.

Each member of the winning foursome received a golf bag and a set of clubs from THE TRIBUNE, and a season ticket from the Chicago District Golf association for the second Chicago open tournament to be played at Olympia Fields on July 22, 23 and 24. The other 28 finalists did not go unrewarded. Each was given a dozen P. G. A. balls and a ticket for the final 36 holes of the Chicago open.

Hard Job for Jury.

After Tom Walsh of Westgate Valley, national secretary of the Professional Golfers' association, had introduced Lew Waldron of Mohawk, head instructor at Columbus park, the latter took over the microphone and kept the crowd amused for the hour and a half required to complete the judging.

After Waldron had introduced Tod Hardy, Diversey professional; Al Megeff, former Evergreen pro, and Jim Wigman of the Ridge Driving Range, all of whom donated their services to the school, the jury of P. G. A. members began the task of choosing the winners. The jury consisted of Harry Kinnell of Edgewood Valley, secretary of the Illinois section of the P. G. A.; Harry Adams and Charley Penna of Medinah, Matt Matteson of Ridge, Ren Smith of Oak Park, and Walsh.

The judges found their job a difficult one, and in each division were forced to give several of the finalists individual examinations. This was particularly true of the women's division, wherein the decision swung between Miss Logan and Mrs. Ellen Halm, 5731 South Artesian avenue,

BASEBALL HAS ITS BANNER SUNDAY; 184,887 ATTEND

New York, May 22.—(AP)—Headed by the season's biggest one-game crowd—62,244, who turned out to see the Indians whip the Yankees in Cleveland—major league baseball enjoyed its most successful Sunday of the year today.

A total of 184,887 paying customers were on hand for the eight games, 113,134 in the American league and 71,753 in the National. Only opening day, when more than 200,000 ushered in the season, topped today's total attendance.

The previous one-game high for the year was set by the 54,500 who saw the Tigers open their season in Detroit on April 22.

SHOFFNER HITS WITH TWO ON TO DEFEAT BRYANT

Boston Scores 7th in Row.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., May 22.—Two winning streaks met head on here today and in the collision one of them had to break. It was the four game string owned by the Cubs that snapped. The shattering, which resulted in seven victories in a row for the amazing Bees, was done by Milburn Shoffner, a 32 year old pitcher who for season after season had languished unnoticed in a side road minor league. Shoffner riddled holes in the youth-must-be-served adage by pitching an eleven inning 2 to 1 triumph.

While Shoffner, discarded about ten years ago by Cleveland and brought up from Scranton, Pa., club last fall, was having his big day, another pitcher who was worthy of victory drew nothing better than a beating. The latter was Clay Bryant, the youngster whose closest associate is misfortune. The Cub right-hander was as startling as his left-handed adversary, at least until the eleventh, when the crash occurred. And who was in at the kill with the decisive base hit but Shoffner!

American Leaguers Active.

The decisive eleventh opened with Deb Garms, an American league discard, contributing his third hit. It was a hard bunt which skipped past Bryant. Mueller sacrificed. On three prior appearances Shoffner had failed with men on bases, so Bryant didn't object to giving Warstler, also an American league alumnus, his fourth successive pass. Up came Shoffner. Maybe he was tired and wanted to maintain his record of complete games in six starts. Anyway, he singled to right and Demaree couldn't return the ball to the plate in time to head off Garms with the winning run.

Given a one run lead in the first inning, Bryant turned loose a burst of speed which netted five strikeouts against two hits in three innings. In the fourth he was bumped for three hits, but only two of them figured in the run on which the Bees tied the count. From then on Bryant had to fight not only the Bees but his own wildness. He managed both skilfully until the eleventh.

Meanwhile the Cubs were in eclipse as hitters. They made five hits in the first four innings. In the remaining seven they piled up only two, and Shoffner lent no encouragement with passes. He walked only one all afternoon and this came in the sixth as a sort of courtesy from one old man to another. It went to Gabby Hartnett.

Hack Opens with Double.

Hack was the principal performer in production of the Cubs' run off Shoffner in the first inning. He opened the game with a double to left center. Cooney sprinted in to capture Herman's short fly. Galan came to the rescue with a single through short, scoring Hack. Then Demaree hit a real liner to right but Cooney caught the ball. Galan didn't think a catch was possible and was at second. He couldn't get back to first in time to avoid being doubled by Cooney's throw to Fletcher.

The Bees experienced more suffering than pleasure during the first three innings. Bryant fanned two men in the opening inning. There was a fluke double by Di Maggio in between. The second started with a single by Cuccinello, but Garms flied to Reynolds, Mueller struck out and Cuccinello was caught stealing. The third was short and spectacular. Warstler expired on a grounder to Jurges. Bryant threw three wide

BIG TEN TRACK FEATS STAND OUT IN 8 MAJOR MEETS

Best in 8 Out of 16 Events; Watson Star.

New York, May 22.—(AP)—The college track and field stars of the midwest, east, and south, who will be tested next month, when the Pacific coast teams come east for the intercollegiate A. A. A. A. and national collegiate A. A. title meets, can hold up their heads for a while.

A series of conference and sectional meets Friday and Saturday produced unusually fine performances. Many of them were as good as those recorded on the west coast, but they were scattered.

Michigan, in the Big Ten meet at Columbus, O., turned in the greatest display of strength against the best opposition. Even the Wolverines didn't appear to have as much concentrated power as Southern California. The Pacific coast meet will be held next week.

Big Ten Performances Best.

Good performances Friday and Saturday turned up everywhere, from Birmingham, where the Southeastern conference meet was run, to the New England intercollegiates at Providence, and the Big Six meet at Lincoln, Neb. No one meet had a monopoly. Although the Big Ten recorded eight "bests" and shared in another in the sixteen standard events, six of eight major meets had some sort of a share.

The Southeastern and Southern conferences and the heptagonal games of the "Ivy league" were tops in two events each. The New England and North Central conference meets also appeared on the list of leaders, while the best performances in the Big Six and Missouri Valley meets weren't far behind.

Michigan's colored ace, Bill Watson, was easily the outstanding individual. He won three Big Ten titles, breaking one record, and surpassed the stars of all other sections in his specialties. Watson's new conference mark was 52 feet 11½ inches in the shot put. He also heaved the discus 154 feet 8¼ inches and broad jumped 24 feet 11¾ inches.

Runs 440 in :47.

Other outstanding feats were a 47 second quarter mile by Charles Belcher of Georgia Tech; a 4:10.9 mile by Chuck Fenske of Wisconsin, and a 9:10.4 two miles by Fenske's teammate, Walter Mehl.

A few warnings from the far west were heard yesterday, however, when Oregon's George Varoff pole vaulted 13 feet 11¼ inches in the Pacific coast northern division meet, and Gil Cruter of Colorado high jumped 6 feet 8¼ inches in the Rocky mountain Big Seven meet. These marks surpassed the best from farther east.

Here are the best performances in eight meets in the midwest, east, and south [event, performance, and winner]:

100 yards—:09.6; Lewis, Ohio State.
220 yards—:21.4; Johnson, North Dakota, and Herring, V. M. I.
440 yards—:47; Belcher, Georgia Tech.
880 yards—1:52.7; Bradley, Princeton.
Mile—4:10.9; Fenske, Wisconsin.
Two miles—9:10.4; Mehl, Wisconsin.
Mile relay—3:16.5; Louisiana State.
120 yard hurdles—:14.5; Gedeon, Michigan; Waterer, Louisiana State, and Kinzie, Duke.
220 yard hurdles—:23.5; Kinzle, Duke.
High jump—6 feet 7¼ inches; Albritton, Ohio State.
Broad jump—24 feet 11¾ inches; Watson, Michigan.
Pole vault—13 feet 10¼ inches; Harding, Yale.
Shot put—52 feet 11½ inches; Watson, Michigan.
Discus—154 feet 8¼ inches; Watson, Michigan.
Javelin—202 feet 8 inches; Lamb, Iowa.

BY OFFSIDE.

The Sparta Garden City eleven, national soccer champion, was held to a 1 to 1 tie by the Maccabees at Sparta stadium yesterday in a game that closed the professional league season for both teams. MacDermott scored in the second minute for Sparta and Gonsalves evened the count eight minutes before the end ot the match with a goal from eighteen yards out.

Silovsky, Sparta goal, saved on several hard shots by Gonsalves while the Maccabees were pressing just after MacDermott scored. Sparta, with a wind advantage, took the offensive early in the second period, but the Maccabees rallied. One of Gonsalves' drives slipped past the post, but he came back to get around three opponents and in on Silovsky. He gave Silovsky no chance to save on his shot.

The tie gave Sparta the professional league title. The Maccabees will meet the Cleveland Slavias Sunday and Sparta will engage them the following day.

FRANCE TAKES SERIES.

MARSEILLES, France, May 22.—(AP) — The French Davis cup team clinched its series with Monaco today in the second round play of the European zone when Henri Bolelli and Pierre Pelizza defeated the Monaco doubles team of Gaston Medecin and Vladimir Landau, 6-2, 6-0, 6-3.

The French tennis team won two singles matches Saturday and today's victory gave it a 3 to 0 lead.

ITALY WINS SINGLES MATCH.

Giovanni Canepele, Italy, defeated Josef Hebda, Poland, 6-1, 7-9, 6-2, 7-9, 6-2 in the first singles match to give Italy a 1 to 0 lead. Giorgio de Stefani of Italy was leading Ignacy Tloczinski of Poland, 8-6, 6-4, 1-3 in the second match when rain halted the play.

Discover Two New Threats in British Golf

TROON, Scotland, May 22.—(AP)—Charlie Yates and Sandy Somerville, respectively the happiest and dourest players in the field, became the dark horses tonight to win the British amateur golf tournament starting tomorrow.

Yates has gained prominence for three reasons: He's holing out the ball from all over the green, Johnny Fischer, his first round opponent has suddenly lost the touch and if he gets past Fischer he'll have a comparatively easy march to the semi-finals.

Although ignored by the galleries, Somerville, the veteran Canadian, has attracted the critics mainly because he still can hit iron shots closer to the hole than any man in the field. He came over a month ago to get ready for the tournament. He arrived here and found the course closed but has been practicing on English seaside courses and is on top of his game.

Jones Predicts Big Things for Yates.

Years ago Yates' fellow townsman, Bobby Jones, predicted great things for Charlie and after winning the western and intercollegiate titles he may break through this year. The youngster from Atlanta has been unusually diligent about practice since he arrived. When the other members of the Walker cup team went to a London party, he stayed in the hotel and went to bed.

Must Find His Touch.

Back of Goodman he's still the second favorite in the betting, but unless he pulls his touch out of the air, Yates will beat him when they start the field off Tuesday.

Last night the course was deluged with rain. Today it was closed but in perfect condition. This rain is fine from the viewpoint of America's players since it is now easier to pitch to the greens. It is dangerous to count out the Scottish players in this tournament. They are particularly tough on their native heath with enthusiastic galleries following.

Scots Like Stevenson.

In fact, it is not hard to get a bet that Johnny Stevenson, the Troon hope, will go farther than any American one cares to name. Eddie Hamilton, known as the Pocket Hercules, is another Scottish favorite. Thus far 18 out of a field of 241 have scratched and of the remaining 223, twelve are Americans.

Nine of them play tomorrow, Bobby Dunkelberger, Arthur V. Rogers Jr., a student at Oxford from Winchester, Mass.; Francis Ouimet, Chuck Kocsis, Charles S. Munson Jr., who like Dunkelberger and Rogers is not a member of the Walker cup team; Marvin Ward, Goodman, Ray Billows, and Reynolds Smith.

Other stars in the first day's field include Robert Sweeney, the defending champion, and Somerville. One feature match in which J. C. L. Jenkins, the veteran who won the title in 1914, meets Hector Thomson, winner in 1936, is scheduled.

MAY FORM NEW CONFERENCE IN DOWNSTATE AREA

Lebanon, Ill., May 22.—(AP)—Acceptance of the resignations of McKendree and Shurtleff colleges at the Illinois Intercollegiate conference meeting last Friday may open the way toward formation of a new league of small downstate liberal arts colleges.

Withdrawal of the Lebanon and Alton schools from the conference was the result of what President Clark Yost of McKendree described as disparity in the sizes and types of schools in what was once the Little Nineteen.

Dr. Yost said he looks upon a league of downstate liberal arts colleges as desirable. It has been reported that Blackburn, Principia, Eureka, and Carthage might join with McKendree and Shurtleff in formation of the new conference.

Price, Mississippi Center, Signs with Redskins

Washington, D. C., May 22.—(AP)—Jack Espey, manager of the world champion Washington Redskins, announced today that Dave Price, Mississippi State center, had signed a contract and will report in August, when the champions begin training for the game against the College All-Stars in Chicago.

ARMSTRONG HAS TROUBLE EVADING JAB OF SPARMATE

Style Similar to Ross' Puzzles Henry.

Pompton Lake, N. J., May 22.—(AP)—Henry Armstrong, who fights Barney Ross for the latter's welterweight title Thursday night, ran into a left jab today and didn't like it at all.

Henry boxed six rounds, and the two he went with Frank Genevose, Canadian welterweight, were the most troublesome. As Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis watched, Genevose speared Armstrong repeatedly with a long left jab. Genevose's style is similar to Ross'.

Homicide Henry had little trouble with his other two sparmates, Charlie Gordon and Jack Murray. He weighed 135½ pounds, a half pound under the weight he has agreed to make for the bout in Madison Square Garden bowl Thursday.

Louis Won't Pick Winner.

Manager Eddie Mead said today's workout likely would be the last heavy drill for Armstrong unless he puts on too much weight. Light exercises are scheduled for Armstrong's remaining three days in camp.

Queried as to who he was picking, Louis sidestepped.

"I'm going to the fight," said Joe, "but I ain't doing no picking. Both them boys are good friends of mine."

ROSS ROCKS SPARMATES

Grossinger Lake, N. Y., May 22.—(AP)—Barney Ross, who will defend his world welterweight title against Henry Armstrong Thursday, went through his semi-final training session today before a crowd of 500.

Ross went four rounds with the big gloves against three sparring partners, then wound up his drill with the customary three rounds of exercises. He took on Pete Galiano and Augie Gonzalea for one round each and Pete Cara for two.

McCarney Picks Ross.

Barney cut loose against all his spartmates, slugging away freely and rocking them with hard blows to the head.

After the workout, Billy McCarney, veteran fight manager, picked Ross to retain his title.

"Ross is moving better than ever in his career," McCarney said. "He is likely to beat Armstrong with a right hand to the midsection, a punch he used to good effect today."

The champion plans to box four more rounds tomorrow for his final hard workout. Then he will motor to New York and perform a final set of lighter training stunts Tuesday.

PIRIE WINS TWO RACES, REGATTA WITH RACINE

Lockwood M. Pirie, representing the Chicago fleet, won two of the three races to take first in an intercity Frostbite dinghy regatta off Belmont harbor yesterday. Trophies for the leading boats flying the Racine [Wis.] Yacht club's burgee went to Henry Smieding. Mrs. Allan A. Pearl Jr. and Mrs. Pauline Goltra, both of the Chicago fleet, won the award for yachtswomen.

A dense fog obscured buoys marking the course and the skippers were forced to navigate by dead reckoning, though none of the boats carried a compass. Motor boats patroled the course, keeping the dinghies within bounds.

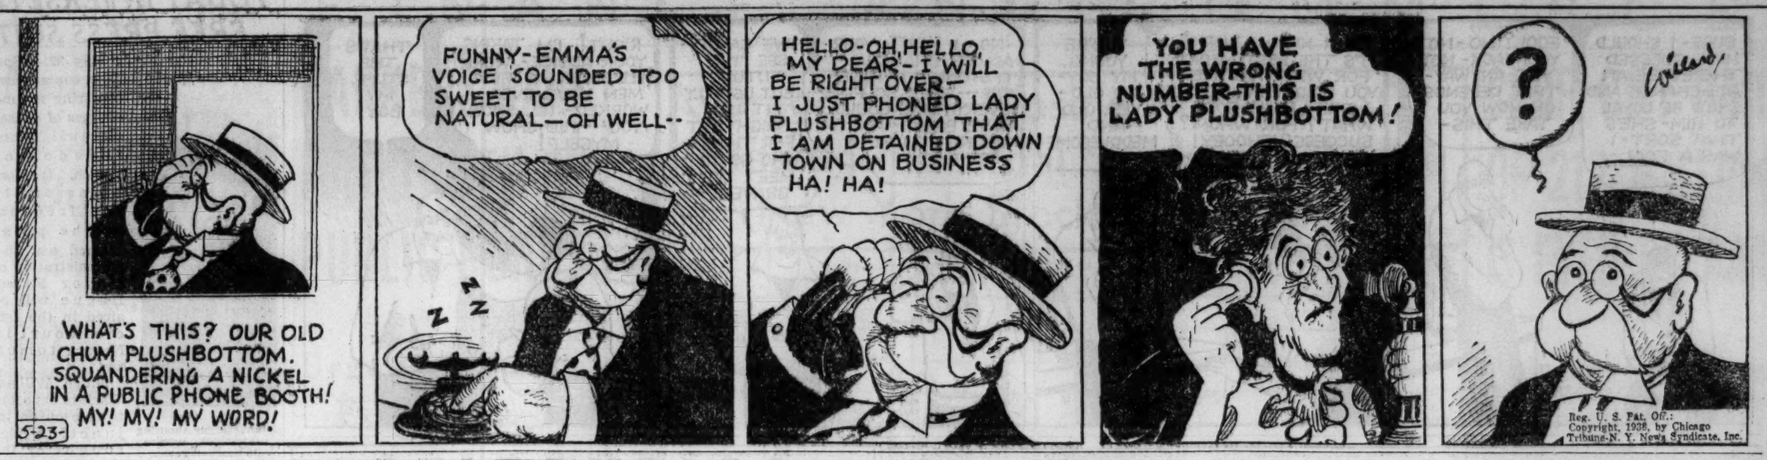
MOON MULLINS—EMMY GETS PLUSHIE'S NUMBER



62,244 See Indians Beat Yankees, 8-3

Cleveland, O., May 22.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians increased their American league lead to two games today by whipping the New York Yankees, 8 to 3, in a game costly to both sides and played before 62,244.

Bob Feller retired after working three innings when he complained of the recurrence of a back injury, and Lou Gehrig, the Yankee iron man, pulled a charley horse on a double in the sixth inning and gave way to Babe Dahlgren in the seventh. It was Gehrig's 1,992d consecutive game.

Feller strained his back in pitching a winning game at New York two weeks ago and has complained of soreness since that time. However, he took his regular turn to beat Philadelphia last week.

Vitt said Feller undoubtedly caught cold in his aching back muscles, but the soreness probably would work out under the care of Trainer Lefty Wiseman.

Yankee teammates of Gehrig expressed confidence tonight the veteran would continue his string of consecutive games tomorrow.

A'S WIN IN TENTH.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—(AP)—The Athletics scored three runs in the tenth inning off Buck Newsom, who went in as a relief hurler with two on, to defeat the Browns, 8 to 5, today.

Newsom, the Browns' ace pitcher who went the full route to beat Boston yesterday, was not charged with the defeat, since Julio Bonetti had left him on the spot with one out. Newsom walked the first man to fill the bases and Lodigiani singled to score two runs. Potter, Philadelphia pitcher, followed with a sharp single to center to score Siebert with the third run. Lee Faces Bees and Fette Today in Series Final

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., May 22.—Bill Lee, whose last job for the Cubs was his ten inning shutout of the Giants on Thursday, will try his hand against the Bees in the final of the series tomorrow. He'll be opposed by Lou Fette.

Scout Jack Doyle showed up today, towing a lad named Barney Olsen from Malden High school. The kid is built on the lines of Pie Traynor. He worked out at short before the game. Scout Pants Rowland also rejoined the Cubs. He was at West Point yesterday taking his second look at some member of the Fordham varsity nine.

What might have been the biggest crowd of the year in the Beehive was ruined by the weather. It poured rain all morning and by the time the sun made a reappearance, it was too late for customers to start in from the surrounding hamlets. The anticipated 35,000 shrank to 20,161.

Bulletin No. 5 on Diz Dean's bursitis: Diz lobbed over a few throws and then went into a pepper game. A local scribe asked about the arm and Diz replied, "O, it is a little tired."

Bees Defeat Cubs, 2 to 1, in Eleven Innings

ones to Shoffner, but followed with three strikes. Shoffner was hardly back to the bench before Bryant also had thrown three strikes past Fletcher.

Demaree's liner to Cooney in the first wasn't the only potential hit the Cubs aimed badly. Reynolds lined to Warstler for the second out in the second inning. Collins followed with a single through short, but Jurges fanned. In the third everything was easy for the Bees except a popup which Cuccinello lost in the sun. At the start of the fourth Demaree encountered more tough luck. His drive was knocked down by Garms, who then threw him out.

The Bees' tying run in the fourth inning started with a fly by Cooney. It dropped about a foot inside the right field line and by the time Demaree was able to get it back to the infield Cooney was on second. Di Maggio flied to Demaree, Cooney going to third after the catch. He galloped home on West's single past Herman.

Bryant Gets Scare.

Bryant yielded his first pass in the fifth. It went to Warstler with none out. A fly ball and a double play eased the tension. The Cubs had a chance to break the tie in the sixth, but lacked the punch. Galan singled between strike outs by Herman and Demaree. Galan stole second and Hartnett walked, but Reynolds flied to West.

Bryant really had to work in the seventh to overcome a full house. The inning opened unhappily when Garms lined to left. Galan attempted a shoe string catch, but missed and Garms stretched it into a double. Mueller flied out, but the situation became serious when Warstler walked. Shoffner tapped in front of the plate and Hartnett tossed him out at first. Then Fletcher walked, filling the bases. Embarrassment was averted when Herman stepped into short center to take Cooney's fly.

Herman Prolongs Inevitable.

A pass to Cuccinello with two out was Bryant's only trouble in the eighth, but in the ninth he faced another snappy job. He walked Warstler with one out. Shoffner lined to Galan. On a hit and run Fletcher singled past Collins and Warstler went to third. Cooney hit a slow, treacherous roller which Herman reached in time to throw him out.

Collins opened the tenth with a single over second, becoming the first Cub to reach base since Hartnett walked in the sixth. Jurges tried to sacrifice but bunted foul to Fletcher and Collins was almost doubled off first. Bryant then flied deep to Di Maggio and Hack flied to West. The Cubs didn't get a man to base in the eleventh, but the Bees did. That's what ended the party.

DODGERS ORDER LIGHTING SYSTEM FOR NIGHT GAMES

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 22.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers today took the first step toward night baseball by letting contracts for installation of the "largest and most modern" lighting system for night sports in Ebbets field.

Although the Dodger management said no decision has been reached "regarding the baseball or football games" to be played at night, it was assumed Brooklyn would be the second team in the major leagues to have night baseball. Cincinnati now is the only big league team playing home games under lights.

White Sox Pick Gabler to Face Senators Today

Pitcher Frank Gabler will make his debut in Comiskey park in this afternoon's White Sox game with the Washington Senators. Monte Weaver probably will go for the Senators.

Some of the Sox fans weren't very hospitable to Zeke Bonura yesterday. On his first trip to the plate he was greeted with a number of boos, but the bum sports soon were drowned out by the applause of regular guys and most of the ladies.

The White Sox announced yesterday that Lefty Bob Uhle had been returned outright to Dallas and that Jess Landrum had been returned to St. Paul on option. These releases brought the Sox down to the player limit effective tonight at midnight.

Rupert Thompson, threatened with return to San Diego through the intricacies of baseball draft laws, is to be retained by the Sox as an outfield and infield utility man and pinch batter.

Al Simmons still has his followers in Chicago, if applause which attended some of his efforts can be so construed.

Monty Stratton, rated White Sox pitching ace until he injured his arm in a Sox-Cub game in Los Angeles on March 27, will make his first start of the season tomorrow in the final with the Senators.

Joe Kuhel will not return to the Sox lineup for at least a week, his ankle injury having become aggravated to the extent he no longer can stand on it with comfort.

CASE MANAGER SEEKS C. I. O. PACT TO OPEN PLANT

Rockford, Ill., May 22.—[Special.]—The J. I. Case company management tonight offered to meet a United Automobile Workers of America [C. I. O.] bargaining committee tomorrow if the strikers will permit the plant to be reopened. The factory has been closed since April 25, when C. I. O. dues collectors stopped all employés at the gates and permitted only paid up members to enter.

Tonight's offer was made by A. W. Leland, plant manager, to Frank Sahorske of Racine, a U. A. W. A. organizer, after a conference of city and county officials who sought to effect the reopening of the plant.

Plans went forward to reopen the factory at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning, when members of the American Federation of Labor union said they would report for work. Although a peaceful conclusion appeared probable, fifteen policemen and fifteen sheriff's deputies were ordered to be at the gates at 6 a. m.

BODY OF JEWISH LABOR OPPOSES PLEBISCITE PLAN

New York, May 22.—(AP)—The Jewish labor committee in a statement today assailed next month's Jewish plebiscite in 304 American cities. The committee, claiming to represent Jewish labor organizations with a combined membership of more than 400,000, called the election "vicious" and a "menace."

The plebiscite was called for June 25-27 by the American Jewish congress to enable members of the race to unite in defense of Jewish rights. The Jewish labor committee says the congress does not actually represent American Jewry.

The statement was signed by the officers of the committee, Chairman B. C. Vladeck, New York City councilman; Treasurer David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union [C. I. O.], and Secretary J. Baskin, general secretary of the Workmen's circle.

MANUFACTURER OFFERS 12 STEPS TO AID BUSINESS

Hits Pump Priming as a Failure.

Asserting the administration's pump priming billions will not restore prosperity, B. C. Heacock, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, yesterday appealed to the government to cease its attacks on business and adopt a policy putting an end to fear and uncertainty.

Heacock, Peoria manufacturer and head of the Caterpillar Tractor company, made twelve recommendations for stimulating business in an open letter to Senators James Hamilton Lewis and William H. Dieterich of Illinois.

"Pump priming," said Heacock, expressing the views of his association, "is like a powerful drug administered by physicians in emergency cases. Cumulative doses are required as the efficacy of the drug dwindles.

No Enthusiasm for Plan.

"News of the pump priming program, contrary to the expectation of its friends, has not been enthusiastically received. It has not helped business. We have been priming the pump ever since 1933."

Year.	Pump priming expenditure.	Number of unempl'd.
1933	$3,300,000,000	12,945,000
1934	2,500,000,000	11,243,000
1935	4,880,000,000	10,267,000
1936	3,425,000,000	8,571,000
1937	2,289,000,000	7,585,000

"There are now nearly 12,000,000 unemployed and the taxpayers are asked to dig up $4,762,000,000 for more pump priming!" he said. "One-seventh of the entire population, or more than 18,000,000 persons, are receiving public assistance of some kind from the federal, state, and local governments."

The letter said corporate surplus fell from $29,000,000,000 in 1929 to $14,000,000,000 in 1935 and is less now.

Lists Measures to Aid.

To reduce unemployment and bring real recovery Heacock proposed that the government:

Treat business as a partner in serving society—not as an enemy. Cease activities to regiment industry, business and labor. Effect economies aimed at budget balancing and alleviating confiscatory taxes. Repeal or amend the national labor relations act. Abandon federal attempts to control wages and hours.

Also, adopt an impartial attitude in employment relations. Abolish tax-free, rent-free, cost-free competition with private business. Modify inequitable provisions of the social security act. Preserve law and order impartially. Eliminate partisan politics from relief administration. Preserve states' rights and local self-government. Discontinue inaccurate, inflammatory statements by public officials.

New Oil Field Makes Illinois Big Producer

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

A year ago this time down in Clay county, Illinois, farmers and townsfolk alike were excited because the first oil well in the new Illinois field had just been brought in on the farm of Bunyan [Bunny] Travis, near Clay City. The bringing in of this well followed the discovery of a well of substantial flow early in March, but it was Travis' well that started the real excitement.

Bunyan Travis.

In the year since the finding of Bunny Travis' gusher, the Illinois field, which restored to the state a substantial oil business, has expanded so much that Dr. M. M. Leighton, chief of the Illinois geological survey, estimates production of crude oil in this state will exceed 13,000,000 barrels for 1938.

Company Opens 160 Wells.

The Pure Oil company, which pioneered in the new Illinois field and which brought in Bunny Travis' well, now has about 160 wells producing in the Illinois fields.

Dr. Leighton estimates that eight new pools discovered in the Illinois basin in the last year have already added about 100,000,000 barrels to the state's oil reserves.

Basin Depths Vary.

Dr. Leighton says that in the eastern part of the basin oil sands lie at depths of 3,000 to 3,100 feet and in the western section they are found at depths of from 1,250 to 1,400 feet.

Oil produced in the new fields last year totaled about 3,500,000 barrels and oil obtained from the old fields, which have been producing for years, totaled 3,000,000 barrels.

Dr. Leighton adds a word of caution to those who may be over-enthusiastic about the possibilities for sudden riches by explaining that in the Illinois fields only one out of every ten wildcat wells produces oil.

40 TOWNS OPPOSE ABANDONMENT OF 249 MILE RAILWAY

Quincy, Ill., May 22.—[Special.]—Forty towns between Quincy and Kansas City will fight the proposed abandonment of 249 miles of railroad by the Quincy, Omaha, and Kansas City line, which is controled by the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy, it was learned today.

The Quincy road, harassed by competition and unable to earn a profit, asked the interstate commerce commission last week to permit it to go out of business.

BANKERS WANT FULL TRUTH ON PUBLIC BONDS

Urge Governments Explain Issues.

States, municipalities, and other public bodies, saved by the politicians from having to comply with the provisions of the 1933 "truth in securities act," will be asked by dealers and underwriters to submit detailed prospectuses when they make offerings in the future, the Investment Bankers' Association of America announced yesterday.

Announcement of the move to provide investors, especially those remote from and unfamiliar with the offering body, with essential facts which will enable them to judge what they are buying, was made simultaneously with the disclosure that the association has launched an investigation to determine the extent of defaults on public obligations since 1929. No estimate ever has been made of the total of such defaults.

Represents Security Houses.

The association represents both the large and the small security houses, underwriters, and commercial banks, which since the depression began have been doing most of their business in securities of municipal and other governmental agencies.

The organization's twofold movement is an effort to apply to these bodies in some degree the requirements clamped on private business in the 1933 act. Not only were governing units and agencies exempted from provision of that act but similar exemption is provided in connection with the pending Maloney bill for the regulation of transactions in unlisted securities.

Despite these exemptions, however, the dealers and underwriters represented by the investment banker organization hope to induce the public bodies to revise their circular specifications.

Many Defaults Recalled.

It was recalled in La Salle street discussions that during the depression many municipalities, drainage, and levee districts, and other political divisions, particularly in the south, defaulted on interest or principal on loans. It was said one thing that has enabled these units to get loans, which in many cases were not scund, was the tax exemption feature of such obligations.

This feature made it possible for such bodies to issue securities without divulging financial weak spots, observers said, adding that under the securities act the federal authorities have been willing to let political subdivisions "get by" with anything that the bankers did not catch.

Group Headed by Chicagoan.

The subcommittee which drafted the proposed prospectus to bring out all the facts about issues offered, and thereby do for the investor what the Washington politicians did not do, was headed by George L. Martin, vice president of Kelley, Richardson & Co., Inc., Chicago house specializing in municipal securities.

The association described the move as a voluntary step in the direction of self-regulation entirely free of any governmental agencies. John S. Linen, second vice president of the Chase National bank, New York, is chairman of the municipal securities committee through which Martin's group made the recommendation.

The inquiry on defaults will cover all cities having a population of 5,000 or more, and is being aided by local banking groups throughout the country.

BORAH OFFERS TAX PLAN FOR PUBLIC BONDS

Washington, D. C., May 22.—(AP)—Senator Borah [R., Idaho] advocated today a system of single taxation of income from public securities.

Under his proposal the federal government would levy upon income from its own bonds and the states on income from their own securities.

Borah said this would be a "simple solution" of the problem of tax exempt securities, which has engaged the attention of President Roosevelt and many members of congress. The President has suggested legislation to permit the state and federal governments to tax income from each other's securities as well as from their own.

Steel Wages Are Fivefold 1937 Dividends

Labor last year drew from the nation's steel industries in the form of wages five times as much as was paid to the stockholders, who nominally own the companies paying the wages, plus the amount added to surplus, according to a study made by the American Iron and Steel institute.

In 1929, when all stockholders were faring much better than they are now, the wage earners got two and a half times as much as the stockholders did, plus that added to surplus.

The study made by the institute was based on information supplied by twenty-seven companies providing 90 per cent of the steel output.

How Revenues Are Apportioned.

Out of every dollar taken in by the industry 37 cents went into the pay envelopes of the workers, 5 cents was paid out in dividends, and 2½ cents was added to surplus. In 1929 the employés got 35½ cents out of every steel dollar, 6½ cents was paid out in dividends and 9 cents was added to surplus.

The tax collector has been doing a more thorough job in reducing the revenue obtained by the steel industry from the sale of its products. In 1937 he collected 5½ cents from each dollar, whereas in 1929 he collected only 4 cents out of each dollar.

Less Added to Surplus.

The amount transferred to surplus last year was only 2½ cents out of each dollar, compared with 9 cents added to surplus in 1929. Interest charges took 1 cent out of every dollar in 1937. In 1929 they took 1½ cents. In both 1937 and 1929 about 5 cents in each dollar was set aside for depreciation of plants and depletion of mineral reserves.

United Gas Improvement.

Investors' Guide: What do you think about United Gas Improvement company stock? I see it pays a good return.—Miss T. G. H.

Answer: The $828,000,000 United Gas Improvement company, a combined holding and operating company, provides various public utility services for a population of more than 5,500,000 persons. A major portion of its operations are in southeastern Pennsylvania and adjoining sections of northern Delaware and northeastern Maryland. Another large division is in Connecticut and the company controls isolated properties in Pennsylvania, Tennessee, New Hampshire, Missouri, and Arizona.

More than three-quarters of total operating revenues are from sales of electric energy, a little less than one-fifth from gas sales, and the rest from transportation and other utility enterprises.

The Philadelphia Electric company and the Delaware Electric Power company are the most important operating companies of the United Gas Improvement system. The territory served by the companies is highly industrialized and includes the important cities of Philadelphia, Pa., and Wilmington, Del.

Rate reductions granted by the company and subsidiaries in 1937 were said to have reduced revenues for the year by $2,335,000 and would affect earnings adversely in 1938 by an estimated $2,683,000. The Philadelphia Electric company made the principal reductions. United Gas Improvement recently has experienced difficulty in renewing a lease on the city owned Philadelphia Gas Works company, although United Gas Improvement agreed to cut rates.

Net income for the first quarter of this year declined $7,146,533, equal after preferred dividends to 27 cents a common share, from $7,809,240, or 30 cents a share, in the first quarter of last year. The record of earnings in recent years follows:

1937	$108,998,924	$29,105,379	$1.09
1936	105,534,237	29,116,226	1.09
1935	99,994,574	29,214,250	1.09
1934	98,228,606	31,463,751	1.19
1933	95,847,208	32,541,421	1.23
1932	100,351,962	35,384,301	1.36
1929	102,228,411	32,519,183	1.46

The company has 765,216 shares of $5 cumulative no par preferred and 23,252,010 shares of no par common. The latter stock pays $1 a year.

As a holding company, United Gas Improvement must make important adjustments to conform with the public utility holding company act. Pending these adjustments, the company's common and preferred stock must be regarded as speculative.

Wheat Prices Dip on Outlook for Large Crop

The world wheat market was on the downgrade the larger part of last week. All deliveries of wheat futures on the Chicago Board of Trade sold at the lowest prices since April, 1934. New seasonal low levels also were established on the deferred future deliveries in Liverpool and Winnipeg.

An increasing tendency to raise estimates on the prospective North American wheat crop, and realization that financial conditions in many European countries will prevent extensive purchases of American grain was said to account for much of the bearish sentiment.

Wheat Loan Prospect Ignored.

The prospect of federal loans to American farmers on security of an estimated 200,000,000 bushels of cash wheat, and official announcement that Canada will seek to "peg" the price of this year's wheat crop in the northwestern provinces failed to affect the market.

Harvesting of winter wheat started late last week in north central Texas, the southern edge of the main producing area.

Trade estimates indicated a possibility that the United States will harvest one billion or more bushels of wheat this season, and a better than an average crop of around 400,000,000 bushels is regarded likely in the Canadian northwest.

Record shipments of cash corn from Chicago and other lake ports to Canada for export to Europe failed to get that market out of the narrow price range in which it has held for many weeks.

PRICES OF STEEL ARE EXPECTED TO REMAIN STEADY

Independent steel mills are expected to follow the lead of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation in reaffirming most prices on steel, but the settlement of the price question is not expected to have much effect on buying, the magazine Steel said yesterday.

"With general buying showing few signs of improvement, miscellaneous lots of steel purchases are developing to assist in keeping production at its present rate," the journal said.

Ingot production was unchanged last week at 30 per cent despite a rise of 5 points in the Pittsburgh area and 20 points at Cincinnati. The gains were offset by a decline of 2.5 points in Chicago and losses at Youngstown, Buffalo, and Birmingham.

Steel making scrap prices were marked down 25 cents last week in Chicago and 50 cents in Pittsburgh. The declines resulted in a drop of 22 cents in Steel's composite scrap price to $11.37 a ton.

CROP CUT BAIT OF 212 MILLION IS EYED BY AAA

Proposed Fund Seen as Aid in 1939 Plan.

Washington, D. C., May 22.—(AP)—Officials of the Agricultural Adjustment administration indicated today that if congress approved the $212,000,000 farm benefit fund which the senate appropriations committee has added to the relief bill it would be used to induce grower compliance with the government's 1939 crop programs.

Persons familiar with problems faced by the AAA said the money would be useful especially in connection with next year's wheat program. That program is expected to call for a drastic reduction in wheat plantings if present prospects for the 1938 crop materialize.

Must Observe Quotas.

Undoubtedly, officials said, the proposed fund would be distributed only among wheat, corn, and cotton growers who kept within the planting quotas assigned them for next year.

Such a policy already governs the distribution of $130,000,000 which congress voted last year for cotton growers. Although made available for growers of 1937 cotton, payments from this fund will be made this summer only to farmers who planted within 1938 cotton acreage allotments assigned under the new crop control law.

Big Slash Expected.

The 1939 wheat program, to be announced in July, is expected to propose that plantings be reduced from the 80,000,000 acres seeded for this year's crop to 50,000,000 acres or less.

Thus individual farmers would be asked to reduce their operations 37 per cent, or possibly more.

Cotton growers who reduced their plantings about 20 per cent this season probably will be asked to do the same thing next year.

Growers in the midwestern commercial corn belt, who this year were asked to reduce their operations about 18 per cent, also may be requested to repeat the program next year, depending on the size of this year's crop.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

by HOMER NEISZ

Corn Comes Up

May 22, 1938.

CORN is coming up at the Tribune's Du Page county farm. The small shoots started pushing through the ground last week in a field that was planted on May 3. Scattered plants now are showing up in the fields that were planted later. Some of the corn is high enough for the rows to show across the fields.

Sprouting of the kernels was delayed by a combination of unfavorable weather conditions. There has been little good corn growing weather since the crop was planted. The surface soil was dry and the weather cool when the corn was put in the ground. Rains during the last week have soaked the fields, but temperatures have remained too low for the corn to get a good start.

Some Replanting Expected.

Some of the fields may need to be disked and planted again to get a satisfactory stand. Many of the plants that are up are turning yellow, indicating that they need warmer weather and sunshine. Grass is getting a better start than the corn in fields that were broken out of sod.

In contrast to the poor showing of the corn the pastures, meadows, and fields of oats and rye are doing well. Cool weather is ideal for oats and the crop has responded to the abundance of moisture provided by recent rains.

Rye is jointing and heads are expected to begin forming on the plants within the next few days. The rye was seeded late last fall on land where corn had been cut. It made little growth before cold weather and was slow in developing this spring. Volunteer rye stalks that came up in a field of clover and alfalfa headed out nearly a week ago. Some of them are three feet tall.

Meadows are looking fine. The manager of the farm says prospects for a good hay crop become more encouraging each week. Stands are heavy in both alfalfa and clover fields and part of the alfalfa already is high enough to yield a fair tonnage of hay. The first cuttings of alfalfa are expected to be unusually heavy this year.

Grass is growing in the pastures faster than the sheep, horses, and cattle can eat it.

Fruit Killed by Frost.

Apples, pears, and cherries that were nipped by killing frosts on the nights of May 11 and 12 are beginning to shrivel and drop to the ground. Only a few escaped injury and the fruit crop is considered virtually a failure. The grapes were ruined. All new growth on the vines was killed and none of those in the vineyards have started putting out new shoots. Some of the wild grape vines in the woods are beginning to bud out again.

Foliage was killed on many of the forest trees and shrubs, especially black walnuts, shagbark hickories, white oaks, sumacs, catalpas, and hedge apples. New leaves are starting on most of the oaks and shagbarks. Only a few of the others are beginning to grow again.

Life Insurance in Business.

Business concerns and business men make use of life insurance in a number of ways not usually considered by the usual buyer of a policy. A growing phase of the insurance business appears to be the adaptation of insurance to particular business problems.

One of the best known business uses of insurance is to protect a company against loss incurred if an important officer or employé dies. For example, motion picture companies often insure the lives of valuable stars, and many corporations carry insurance on the lives of their presidents.

Another business use is to provide against loss resulting from death of a debtor. Usually insurance is demanded on large loans where security is somewhat of a personal nature, in contrast to security provided by deposit of collateral.

The use of insurance to provide funds for payment of inheritance taxes is becoming common. Insurance provides ready cash to meet such obligations. Because inheritance taxes must be paid in cash, heavy loss might result if part of an estate had to be liquidated to provide cash in a hurry.

HIDDEN DEATH

By studying these pictures and applying the safety lessons therein, an automobile owner may reduce his chances of being hit by a train. These photographs illustrate common bad habits of motorists that increase the risk of a fatal train collision. The pictures were posed with the co-operation of Illinois commerce commission engineers and the managements of the railroads. These poses were chosen after a field survey of driver practices and a review of accident causes as reported in official investigations of 959 crossing fatalities in Illinois in the last five years. Flashing red signals will be installed at 400 more railroad crossings in the state this year, supplementing warning devices already at 463 crossings.
